HIT BY SENATORS' LEADER PUTS GAME ON ICE AND SERIES IS TIED

Buck Harris' Single Sends Two of Washington Teams Mates Over For Lead in Fifth

GIANTS SCORED IN FIRST

Nehf and Zachery Going Good With Exception of First and Fifth Innings

RYAN REPLACES NEHF IN 8TH

Peckinpaugh and Judge, Washington Keymen, Injured in Ninth—Perfect Weather

(By United Press)

Griffith Stadium, Wash., Oct. 9.—Behind the teasing curves of Tom Zachery, the Washington Senators squared the world series with the New York Giants here this afternoon when they won the sixth game and played the best game of the series by a score of two to one before 36,000 fans.

Young Harris, the Washington manager, won the game with a good old fashioned punch off Art Nehf in the fifth inning. Roger Peckinpaugh, the star Washington shortstop, who returned after two days absence from the line up, started the inning with his second single of the day. Ruel sacrificed him to second and he reached third on Zachery's infield out. Nehf who had held the senators to two hits in four innings weakened at this point. Young McNeely stole second. Harris then drove over second for a long single and Peck and McNeely scored, with the only two runs of the game.

Ryan replaced Nehf at the beginning of the eighth and did not allow the Senators a hit.

Peckinpaugh and Judge were both injured in the ninth inning and the former had to leave the game.

A cloudless sky and brilliant sun formed a perfect setting for the game.

The play by play was as follows:

First Inning

New York—Lindstrom out, Bluege to Judge. Frisch doubled past Judge. Young bunted a foul to the screen, then hit to Zachary and Frisch was run down between second and third. Zachary to Bluege to Peckinpaugh. Young took second on the play. Kelly is up, singled to center, Young scoring. Meusel is up. He was one of the heroes of last year's series. Rice made a sensational one-hand catch of Meusel's long liner into right. One run, two hits, no errors.

Second Inning

Washington—McNeely first up, was walked. Harris goes to bat, forces McNeely, Lindstrom to Frisch. Rice up. Harris out stealing. Nehf to Kelly to Jackson. Rice singled to right on first ball thrown him. Rice went to second, and Goslin was safe at first, when Kelly fumbled his hot grounder. Judge fanned. No runs, one hit, one error.

Third Inning

New York—Wilson up, fanned. Jackson at bat, swung at first ball, ball one, foul ball strike two. Goes out. Harris to Judge. Gowdy at bat, ball one, foul strike one, foul strike two, singled to left. Nehf is up, goes out on a long fly to McNeely. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Washington—Bluege first up, strike one called. Ball one. Foul ball, strike two, ball two, goes out. Frisch to Kelly. Peck at bat, was safe on an infield hit down third base line. Ruel goes to bat, ball one, goes out on a fly to Meusel. Zachary is up, called out on strikes. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning

New York—Lindstrom first up, was out on a fly to Rice. Frisch is batting, again doubled down the right field foul line. Young was out. Harris to Judge. Frisch went to third on the play. Kelly is up, out Bluege to Judge. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Washington—McNeely up, goes out on a pop fly to Jackson. Harris up, goes out. Jackson to Kelly. Rice is now batting, strike one, called, ball one, low; strike two, called, ball two, wide, ball three low; fouled out to Lindstrom. No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Meusel at bat, out Peck to Judge. Wilson up, singles to Rice. Jackson hit into a double play. Harris to Peck to Judge. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Vice Presidential Nominee Indicates He Will Have Nothing to Say About Oil Scandal

NOT DEVIATING FROM ATTACK

LaFollette Heads West to Continue Denunciation—Davis Prepares for New Western Invasion

By D. D. MEREDITH (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Enroute with Gen Daves' Special Train, to Casper, Wyo., Oct. 9—Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential candidate, today entered the Teapot Dome country, reminiscent of the oil scandals of Washington. Casper is almost the center of the Teapot oil district and Dawes is due there at noon for a brief speech.

But Dawes will have nothing to say on the subject of oil, he indicated. He is not deviating from his one line of attack on Senator LaFollette, head of the independent ticket.

Dawes preached his way through Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska with the sermon of "red flag socialism versus the constitution."

The special coming up from the plains of Iowa and Nebraska last night was beset by a driving rain and howling wind that made climbing to a high altitude difficult and the train was somewhat delayed. Douglas was the first stop on the schedule today, a brief rear platform speech being on the program. Dawes will stay in Casper until 5 o'clock this afternoon when he leaves for Grand Island, Neb., where he is due at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow. A platform speech will be made there and other brief speeches are on the program for Columbus and Fremont, Nebr. The party will then go to Omaha for a night speech.

Coming up the 5,000 foot rise in altitude from the Missouri river valley to the Wyoming slopes last night, Dawes and the party listened to an old fiddlers musical program broadcast by the "Cooner Roughnecks" from station KFNF at Shenandoah, Iowa. Dawes telegraphed his appreciation to the station.

MRS. CLARA MYERS IS DEAD

Former Resident of Andersonville Expires Near Rushville

Mrs. Clara Myers, a native of Andersonville, died Wednesday morning at the home of her son, Charles W. Myers, just northeast of this city, death being caused from paralysis. The deceased was 68 years of age, and had lived here for a year. She is survived by four children, the son with whom she lived and a son Jack Myers and two daughters, Pearl Myers and Mrs. Ella Robinson, all of whom live northeast of here.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon, with the cortege leaving the late residence at one o'clock, driving to Andersonville. Services there will be held at the U. B. church, and burial made in the cemetery at Andersonville.

LEADER IN LABOR WAR IS INDICTED

John J. McNamara, Who Served Term in California, For Bombing, Charged With Blackmail

INDICTED IN INDIANAPOLIS

Accused of Threatening Contractors in Attempt to Force Them to Employ Iron Workers

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 9—John J. McNamara, leader in the labor war which culminated in the bombing of the Los Angeles Times and a dozen other dynamite outrages fourteen years ago, today was indicted by the Marion county grand jury on four charges of blackmail.

The charges grew out of McNamara's activities as business agent and secretary of the local branch and structural iron workers union. McNamara, according to the indictment, threatened Fred Junglausa, contractor for the new Elks building here, in an attempt to force him to use iron workers in installing window frames in the building.

Five weeks after the alleged threats, vandals entered the building and did $10,000 damage to window frames and doors, which had been installed by members of the carpenters' union.

The other counts name other instances in which McNamara is said to have threatened contractors who employed members of other unions who operated under the open shop plan.

Willard D. Root Sues Elias E. Chappell and Others For Receiver And Foreclosure of Mortgage

SAYS HE ASSUMED THE NOTE

Manilla Bank Asks $1,306 on a Note From Charles C. Miller and Others

A complaint has been filed in the circuit court by Willard D. Root against Elias E. Chappell and others, demanding judgment on a note for $10,825, appointment of a receiver and foreclosure of a farm mortgage. The complaint alleges that on September 23, 1919 the defendant negotiated a loan for $10,000 from the Rush County Mortgage Loan association, extending for a period of five years. The plaintiff alleges that he assumed the note and mortgage from the loan company and that it is past due, and he seeks judgment.

He alleges in his complaint that the farm that was given as security is neglected and is not worth the amount of judgment, and he asks the court to appoint a receiver to manage and operate the farm so that it can be put on a profitable basis. The demand is for $10,000 judgment, with interest and costs, amounting to $10,825.

One of the defendants named in the action is the Peoples Loan and Trust Company of this city, who are named to answer to any claim that they are alleged to have against the real estate involved.

Another suit filed today in the circuit court is a complaint by the Manilla bank against Charles C. Miller and others, demanding $1,306 on a note. The complaint sets out that John L. Nipp and others gave their promissory note to Capp Miller for $1,200, and that Mr. Miller endorsed the bank, which is now attempting to collect the judgment on the note, naming Miller and Nipp as defendants.

President and Mrs. Coolidge Attend Sixth Game of Series

Washington, Oct. 9—President and Mrs. Coolidge will attend the sixth game of the world's series here this afternoon with a party of friends, including Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stearns of Boston and C. Bascom Slem, secretary to the president. The party will occupy the same ground box near the home plate from which the president viewed the opening game.

TO RAZE THE GRAND HOTEL

Roxanna Petroleum Co., Gets Possession From Tenants

The Roxanna Petroleum company, which recently purchased the Grand Hotel corner, at Main and First streets, will begin tearing down the building soon, according to plans made known today. They expect to erect a modern gasoline filling station on the site.

They have been delayed, it is said, on account of the inability to get possession of the hotel. A suit for possession was filed by them against George E. and Olive Kyle, proprietors of the hotel, and Justice Steech announced today that the suit had been withdrawn, and that the defendants had vacated the hotel.

SEED CORN DRIVE TO OPEN MONDAY

Every School in Rush County Will Be Visited Next Week in Interest of County Corn Show

AWARDS FOR THE SCHOOLS

Russell East, Former Shelby County Agent, Will Assist County Superintendent in Work

A seed corn drive in the schools of Rush county will be launched next week, and a schedule for visiting every school in the county has been made and every teacher is being asked to encourage the work among the pupils.

A. L. Gary, executive chairman for the Rush county corn show, which will be held January 6, 7, and 8, has communicated with every agricultural teacher asking that they assist in making the show the best ever, and he has called attention to the awards that will be given school children that compete in the show.

These awards will be based on the best ten ear samples, and awards will be given for every school in addition to individual prizes.

In canvassing the county next week, B. D. Farthing, county school superintendent, has secured the services of Russell East, formerly the county agent at Shelby county, who is now associated with the agricultural department of the Pennsylvania railroad. He is an expert on corn, and will prove a big help in organizing the schools.

The following schedule will be adopted for the visits next week, and in the instructions to the principals, Mr. Farthing urges co-operation, so that a great deal of good can be accomplished.

RETIRING DISTRICT GOVERNOR SPEAKER

J. T. Arbuckle Addresses Kiwanis Club Regarding Activities of Other Indiana Clubs

COACH SWAIN TALKS TO CLUB

J. T. Arbuckle, retiring governor of the Kiwanis clubs of Indiana, spoke of the recent state meeting held at Evansville, and described some of the activities in the district of Indiana, at the regular meeting of the Rushville club today noon.

During his year in office, Mr. Arbuckle came in contact with the work of every club in the state, and he described the worth while projects which are being carried forward successfully by a number of clubs.

John Swain, member of the high school faculty and coach of the basketball team, discussed sportsmanship and the coming basketball season in a short talk. He showed how Rushville citizens could be of assistance in making a winning team for Rushville high school. Mr. Swain also explained how business men could help by encouraging members of the team to train and keep in good physical condition.

Franklin Torrence of Chicago was the only guest present at today's meeting.

SHOWS YEAR OF GREAT ACTIVITY

Annual Report of Woman's Council For Fiscal Year Reveals Broadening of Work

11,270 MILK LUNCHES SERVED

Chief Object of Organization is Support of Visiting Nurse, Who Made 2,185 Visits

The annual report of the Woman's Council of Rushville for the fiscal year ending September 30, made public today, discloses a year of great activity in health work, and a balance of $1,743.72 in the treasury.

The chief object of the organization is maintaining a visiting nurse, which has been accomplished for many years past, and in recent years the activities of the Council have broadened until clinics are being held and milk lunches are being served in the public schools of the city.

"Much of the success in our work is due to the hearty co-operation of the Psi Iota Xi sorority, the Rotary, Kiwanis and other organizations, as well as our loyal citizens, all of whom have our heartfelt appreciation and thanks," said Mrs. T. M. Green, president of the Council, in submitting the report.

The report of Miss Howell, visiting nurse, shows 314 cases cared for by her during the period covered by the report and 2,185 visits made to these patients. She has made 316 visits to Metropolitan Life Insurance company patients, assisted in the examination of 611 school children and fumigated five homes besides her work in connection with the clinics, which consisted of three for tuberculosis patients and one for babies.

The Rush County Tuberculosis Association, which is composed of members of the Council, has also furnished 11,270 milk lunches to 234 school children and held three tuberculosis clinics and the nurse has made nine visits to tubercular patients in the county.

One of the chief sources of revenue, as revealed by the report, is the sale of Christmas Seals, which has been in charge of the Psi Iota Xi sorority for several years at the holiday season.

It was announced that the sorority had informed the Council that the sale would be conducted again this year.

A summary of receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year ending September 30, submitted by Miss Anna L. Bohannon, treasurer, was submitted as follows:

WATSON SPEECH TO BE CARRIED OVER COUNTRY

Indiana Senator Will Present Republican Viewpoint Before Executives Club of Chicago

SPEECH TO BE ON THE RADIO

Hoosiers will have the opportunity of hearing Senator Jim Watson, of Indiana, in what has been termed the greatest political debate since the Douglas-Lincoln match of 1858, according to word received here from Chicago. When Senator Watson rises before the Executives' Club of Chicago on Friday noon to state the Republican position in relation to the nation's welfare, his address will be carried to every part of the United States by the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation Station WLS, and it is expected that a great many in this vicinity will "listen in" for his talk.

Senator Watson's talk is the second by two of the outstanding leaders of the major parties in the United States. Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, in his address before the club last Friday at the same hour upheld the Democratic viewpoint in an able manner, and in the talk Friday noon, Senator Watson will give the Republican point of view.

DAWES IN TEAPOT DOME DISTRICT

 presenting both the old parties.

LaFollette knows the west and his big drive will be against those "two great aggregations of financial power"—J. P. Morgan and the Standard Oil Company. He predicted today that "either the Republican or the Democratic party will cease to exist for the next four years."

The progressive party, as he described it, was born as a revolt against the "two cynical, mocking, arrogant masks of the idealism of Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln."

This bitter arraignment of the two old parties was delivered by the senator at Newark the final step of his eastern invasion.

Asserting that the control of the government had fallen into a few hands, LaFollette challenged President Coolidge to refute the charge that "those now in control of the government at Washington do not represent the people, but those who exploit the people."

LaFollette was strong in denouncing war.

"The World war, fought to end all wars," he said, "crushed Democracy in America and concentrated the money power in the hands of a few men."

Agriculture was described by LaFollette as having been all but "destroyed through a conspiracy of the banking agencies."

New York, Oct. 9—More confident than ever that he will be victorious at the polls in November, John W. Davis returned from his three days speaking trip through New York today to prepare for a new invasion of the west.

The Democratic candidate planned to spend the day in conference here and will leave tomorrow for a swing that will carry him through Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Tennessee, Kentucky and Ohio, according to the present tentative schedule.

Davis concentrated his attack on the administration's foreign policy in his speech at Buffalo last night, describing it as based on fear of the irreconcilable group in the senate rather than any attempt at constructive statesmanship.

American foreign policy as directed by Hughes, Davis said, has been made the "football of partisan politics."

BROTHERHOOD FORMED
BY 1ST BAPTIST CHURCH

Organization Perfected Following Address by Dr. L. C. Trent of Woodruff Place Church

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

A Brotherhood organization was effected Wednesday night at the First Baptist church in connection with the Men's banquet. Following a splendid prepared dinner in the basement of the church, Dr. L. C. Trent, pastor of the Woodruff Place Baptist church, Indianapolis, delivered an address in keeping with the occasion. He made several helpful suggestions concerning the lines along which men might serve in the church and community.

At the close of his address, the question of organizing a Brotherhood was discussed at length and the first steps were taken toward perfecting the organization. Wilbur Mahin was elected president; E. B. Heath, vice president; Malcom Newkirk, secretary and Clarence McMahon, treasurer. The officers were requested to plan for the next meeting, at which time the organization will be perfected.

The meeting tonight will be for the whole congregation and each member is urged to attend.

JUDGE LEADS SLUGGERS

Joe Judge, Washington first baseman, leads the sluggers who have played all five games of the world series.

Washington—Goslin is up, goes out on a fly to Young. Judge is batting, out on a pop fly to Jackson. Bluege up, foul strike one, ball one, inside, goes out, Jackson to Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning

New York—Gowdy out, Peck to Judge. Nehf flied to Rice who made another fine running catch. Lindstrom out, Zachary to Judge on an easy chance. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Washington—Peck singled on a line drive to left. Ruel sacrificed, Nehf to Kelly. Peck flied to second. Zachary out, Kelly unassisted. Peck got to third. McNeely walked. Two Giant pitchers started warming up. McNeely was almost nipped at first. McNeely stole second and Peck made no effort to score. Harris scored Peck and McNeely with a single to right center. Rice out on strikes. Two runs, two hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning

New York—Frisch fouled to Ruel in front of the Washington dugout. Young out, Ruel to Judge on a fast play. Kelly out, Harris to Judge. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Washington—Goslin fanned. Judge out, Nehf to Kelly. Bluege walked. Bluege stole second. Peck walked. Ruel up, Ruel out, Nehf to Kelly on an easy chance. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning

New York—Muesel up, goes out on a pop fly to Harris. Wilson goes to bat, singled to right. Jackson is batting, foul strike one, ball one high, flied to Goslin. Gowdy, strike one is called, out on pop fly to Harris. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Washington—Zachary is first up in this inning, was out, Gowdy to Kelly. McNeely is up, was out on a foul to Kelly. Harris is up, strike one is called. Strike two, also called. Ball one, wide; ball two, high; went out on a fly to Wilson. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Eighth Inning

New York—Snider was sent in to bat for Nehf. He is a member of the Giant's catching staff. Snider went out on a fly to right. Lindstrom is now batting, strike one, called; foul strike two; ball one, wide; strike three, he fanned. Frisch goes to bat, ball one, low; foul strike one; strike two called. Goes out, Harris to Judge. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Washington—Ryan now pitching for the Giants. Rice is up, goes out, Frisch to Kelly. Goslin is at bat, strike one called; strike two called; ball one, wide; ball two, low; was called out on strikes. Judge is up, ball one, ball two, ball three, ball four, was walked purposely. Bluege is batting, ball one, ball two, strike one called. Went out, Ryan to Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning

New York—Young is first up, ball one, strike one, called. Young fouled to Bluege. Kelly is at bat, ball one, low; strike one, called; strike two, he swung on this one; ball two, high. He singled to Rice. Muesel is up, (Southworth was sent in to run for Kelly) foul, strike one on Muesel; foul strike two. Muesel forced Southworth, Peck to Harris. In fielding Muesel's hot grounded, Peck twisted his knee and was forced from the game. Judge also was hurt in the same play, when he was hit in the stomach by a ball thrown by Harris, in an attempt to double Muesel at first. Taylor was sent to third, and Bluege took Peck's place at short. Wilson is up, strike one, called; ball one high; strike two, he swung at this one; Wilson swung and missed on the third strike. No runs, one hit no errors.

By HENRY L. FARRELL

(P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—Pushed clear to the end of the plank where another shove will mean doom, the Washington Senators were back home today for the sixth game of the World series with the New York Giants.

Down three games to two and with Walter Johnson gone as a possibility in the two games that are necessary to win the championship, the American League champions had little more than a game fighting heart to sustain their hopes.

When the old master, Sir Walter, went down yesterday for the second time, he carried with him the last ordinary chance the Senators had to become the first world's champions. Washington ever had and they became the under-dog in the fifth for the series.

With the Giants needing only one more victory to clinch the title and with Art Nehf, the star southpaw, ready to work, the Giants became a 2 to 1 favorite in the betting to win the series.

Despite the glooming outlook there was no pain on the faces of the home folks to remind the Senators on their arrival last night that things had not gone so well for them in New York. There was the same pep and enthusiasm among the fans and they couldn't see that their Senators were at the point of death.

Washington believed that with Peckinpaugh back in the game and with Tom Zachary ready to stand the Giants on their head that the Senators were sure winner, that the series was squared again and that the American League champions would win the rubber tomorrow.

Ideal weather greeted the mobs that arrived in town this morning on a flock of special trains.

Taxing The Future

There were more tax-free bonds issued during the first six months of this year than during any other period of six months in American history.

This is something that recommends itself for the sober consideration of every taxpayer.

Unless something is done to curtail the reckless and wanton method of taxing the coming generation to pay for present conveniences, there will be no end to the havoc that may be wrought.

Increases in taxes may be traced largely to the craze for issuing bonds in which investors place their money and avoid responsibility in paying for their just share of the cost of government.

The dollar invested by labor, by agriculture and by commerce ought to have an equal chance with the dollar invested by wealthy bondholders in public improvements constructed under the direction of local or national politicians.

Happiness

There are all kinds of institutions, but none quite as unique as the Freedman club for bankrupt millionaires.

To live there, one must be past 60 years old, be cultured, have known wealth and luxury but through bad fortune have been reduced to poverty, must have refined surroundings and must be married, because all of the apartments for single folks are occupied.

Those of us who can't qualify for admission may always be happy over the fact that we do not want to.

For being a millionaire is not the supreme thing in life. To be one whose wealth runs into the millions is misfortune enough, without being reduced to poverty past 60 years of age after knowing luxury which spoils one for a happy life in moderate circumstances.

It isn't so much what we possess or are in this life, as what we think we have and are.

The baby with his first toy is happy.

All In a Day's Work

Mr. Coolidge conceives it to be the business of a President not only to attend to the routine affairs of the Executive Office, but also to lend the presidential influence to any worthy object that will contribute to the public welfare.

This he did when he took time to attend the ceremonies incident to the welcome home of the victorious Washington baseball team. He took occasion to deliver an address to the Washington players on the lesson to be drawn from their endeavors and on the value of the game as a diversion from our more serious duties.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Will "Silent Cal" get the "silent vote"? If he does, then Davis and La Follette may as well waive the formality of counting the ballots and concede the election of the G. O. P. ticket.

For it is the "silent vote," the men and women who take no active part in the rallies, demonstrations and general hullabaloo of a campaign, who listen and think but do not lose either sleep or their tempers over the claims of the campaigners, who really decide who is to be who the day after election.

This year the usual "silent" vote is expected to be increased by some millions of normally stay-at-home voters. Non-partisan civic and patriotic organizations, as well as all the party outfits, are uniting in a drive to get to the polls at least 75 per cent of the eligible voters.

What this may mean in the way of changed results can be sensed when it is known that if 75 per cent of the folks who are entitled to vote Nov. 4 cast their votes the total will be more than 50 per cent above the total vote in the 1920 presidential election. In that year only a fraction more than 49 per cent of eligible voters were cast.

JUST what is it that appeals most to this "silent vote" on the part of the candidates? How should one go about catching it? Probably there isn't any formula. But in the main it is held that the large part of this vote is the thinking as well as the silent vote.

The man who doesn't say much is apt to do a good bit of thinking. He thrashes things out in his own mind rather than arguing them out with another.

Sometimes, of course, he may be simple and silent instead of simply silent, just as it is suggested by his critics that while Coolidge sometimes sits and thinks there are times when he just sits!

COOLIDGE'S silence during the campaign—he has made but two speeches that could be considered campaign utterances—is declared by his backers to be proper technique.

The candidate's apparent indifference and nonchalance, it is held, creates a sense of his absolute confidence. This self-assurance is supposed to react psychologically on doubtful voters, making all those who gauge their votes by the desire to mark a winner incline to the man who seems surest of victory.

Also, while an "outsider," trying to get in, may indulge in a hammer-and-tongs campaign, a similarly strenuous battle by one already in would be interpreted as meaning that he was badly scared. And that would be an unfortunate impression, causing all faint-hearted followers to abandon his cause.

Coolidge's viewpoint is that for a candidate who is already in office to indulge in much speech-making indicates that he is on the defensive. The fellows who are leading the offense, he agrees, must talk. But the best program for the man already in is to stand pat, say nothing, and exude an atmosphere of unshakable confidence.

The president says he never knew a candidate to lose anything by talking too little, so he's striving to talk even less than usual.

AFTER his demand that Charles Dawes be ousted as vice presidential candidate of the Republican party, G. O. P. leaders are more than ever certain that Senator Brookhart's parents were clairvoyant when they named him Smith WILDMAN Brookhart. Because of Brookhart and his challenge there are now a lot of wild men around Coolidge-Dawes headquarters.

AFTER all, the enthusiasm on tap in a presidential campaign is pretty much of a manufactured article. Official as well as civil Washington has been a lot more "hot up" over the world's series than it will be over any possible result of the November elections.

Brevity may be the soul of wit, but there is nothing funny about being short of sleep.

Passing Of One Of Greatest Pitchers Marked By a Tragedy

Fadeout Of Walter Johnson, Best Loved Sportsman, Attended By Gesture Of Kid Manager So Heroic That It Robbed The Tragedy Of Its Sting

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 9—Walter Johnson probably is through with big league baseball.

The passing of one of the game's greatest pitchers and best loved sportsman was marked by a tragedy—and a gesture by a kid manager so heroic that it robbed the tragedy of its sting.

The tragedy was the story of the climax of Johnson's career, how the dream of 18 years came through at the Polo Grounds yesterday and found his arm gone, so that Giant hits rang to all corners of the field and the great pitcher was all but batted from the box.

That he was not batted from the box was due to the magnificent courage of Bucky Harris, who once was a breaker boy in a Pennsylvania coal mine and now manages the American League champions.

Harris and everyone else knew Johnson was not "right" when the Giant batters began to connect squarely with his offerings. The hop was not on the fast ones and the once dread curves were breaking slowly and wide of the mark.

But Bucky Harris, white-faced, seeing the crucial ball game that almost certainly meant the series dribbling out of his reach, stuck out his jaw and played the game.

Not for the sake of a ball game and the thousands of dollars involved, would he send his friend "Barney", as they call Walter in Washington, on that long tramp across the field to the showers, that weary walk that a pitcher has to take alone—too often with the boots of a thoughtless throng in his ears.

Harris kept Johnson in the game, even though the night-mare of that eighth inning when the Giants, almost pityingly, were hitting everything he had.

The Washington manager will win many a ball game in the future with his head, but it is probable he never will win as great a victory with his heart again as was that defeat of yesterday.

In the stands, as Johnson faded and the old speed just wasn't there, the crowd pulled silently for Johnson.

When some fan screamed "take him out" Billy Evans, American League umpire, was out of his grand stand seat and upon the fellow like a thunder-cloud.

"Cut that out," he shouted above the din. "Come outside and I'll knock your head off."

Several of the fan's friends rose blusteringly to his rescue, and Billy, who has a chest like a barrel, challenged them all. They were not to shout down Johnson, he insisted, and they subsided and didn't.

After the game Evans, with a lump in his throat, talked about Walter Johnson and how the umpires felt towards him.

"Since I started umpiring in the American League," Bill said, "I called 500 bad balls on Barney. Never once did he complain."

"He was the greatest fellow in baseball, with a big heart and the greatest fast ball, when he was right."

There were thousands like Evans among the fans of stand and bleachers who would have given much to see Johnson win. But the way he was pitching yesterday he couldn't.

It was a day for youth, not age. Young Lindstrom, the 19-year old kid who played third base for the Giants since Heinie Groh hurt his ankle, was the hero. He was born the year before Johnson started to pitch for Washington.

The blonde kid smacked out four hits off Walter's delivery, with the coolness of a veteran. He went into the air and into the turf around third base for all kinds of hard chances, cutting off Washington base hits.

There was another boy in the game yesterday, also a third baseman, as pitiable a figure as Lindstrom was heroic. If ever there was a ball player who wished there were no such things as "pinches" in base ball, it probably is Miller. Thrown into the game by an injury to the veteran Peckinpaugh, Miller found himself throughout the series coming up in a pinch. And he couldn't deliver. He couldn't even field very well and once he let in some tallies by failing to step on third base.

It was consideration for Miller which caused Walter Johnson to make his fielding error yesterday. The pitcher, with kindly intent, was on top of a bunt, but waited to make sure that Miller was taking the play properly at third base. His hesitancy cost him dear, for when he finally snatched at the ball, he "only picked it up half way" as the ball players say.

Walter Johnson probably will announce his retirement from the big leagues and buy an interest in a club in the Pacific Coast League, where he can settle down. At 37, he is through with fast time. Whether he burned out the remnants of a once invincible pitching arm helping Bucky Harris win the pennant this year or whether 18 years is all a pitcher can serve, no one knows.

But long after the outcome of the present series is forgotten fans—and this goes for the millions—who didn't see it, will remember how Bucky Harris kept Walter Johnson in the box through that chilly October afternoon and saw a crucial ball game go, rather than humiliate one of the game's greatest figures and send him on that long, lonely trek across the green field to the showers.

Cincinnati—Ladkin, conqueror of Epinard in the second international race, developed lameness on the Covington track and may be unable to enter the third international race at Latonia Saturday.

When "Goose" Became a Hero

There were two men on bases—"Bucky" Harris and McNeely—when "Goose" Goslin, the Babe Ruth of the Senators, came to bat in the third inning of the fourth world series game. Goslin swung at the first ball and knocked it out to the right field stands for a home run, scoring Harris and McNeely. Here "Goose" is seen crossing the plate himself. "Hank" Gowdy, Giant catcher, looks on disconsolately, but not so the Washington mascot, Quigley is the umpire at the plate.

CAPTAIN OF REDS DIES IN HOSPITAL

Jake Daubert, Veteran First Baseman, Passes Away This Morning at Cincinnati

WAS OPERATED ON LAST WEEK

(By United Press)
Cincinnati, O., Oct. 9—Jake Daubert, captain of the Cincinnati Reds and veteran first baseman, died in a hospital here today at 4 a. m.

Daubert underwent an operation for appendicitis and draining of the gall bladder last week.

Yesterday his condition became critical and physicians held out little hopes for his recovery.

Acute indigestion, resulting in a dilated stomach, was the immediate cause of his death. His run-down condition, aggravated by stomach trouble, made it impossible for Daubert to rally from the shock of the operation.

Jake's full name was Jacob Ellsworth Daubert. He was 40 years old and his home was in Schuylkillhaven Pa.

Mrs. Daubert and their 19-year old son, George, were at Daubert's bedside when he died. A daughter, Mrs. Samuel Beckner, and Jake's older brother, George Daubert, arrived from Pennsylvania several hours too late to be with the veteran baseball player before he died.

Chicago—After five years of illness, Ralph Wood, 29, one of the greatest basketball players ever developed at the University of Illinois died in Denver last night, his father was telegraphed today.

Will Have Another Chance

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 9—When the New York Giants won the National League pennant some very smart baseball men remarked, "Well, the Giants finished first, but the Pirates had the best team in the league."

When Battling Siki knocked out Georges Carpentier, the French consoled themselves with the thought that the better fighter lost on bad luck.

For years before Bobby Jones won the amateur golf championship, title holders were official champions, but golf bugs held consistently to the claim that young Bobby was the best of all the amateurs.

Another case of the kind can be applied to Epinard, the French thoroughbred, who is to seek vindication Saturday in the third of the big international special races, at Latonia.

Epinard was beaten in his first race at Belmont Park over the six-furlong distance. He finished second behind Wise Counselor, with Ladkin, the August Belmont three-year-old third.

Wise Counselor got the purse, but the glory all went to the French colt. He was excused for having been given a bad ride by Everett Haynes, the former American jockey, who came back from France to ride Pierre Wertheimer's colt in his three big races. Railbirds said that Haynes had been outsmarted by Frank Keogh, another American jockey, just back from France. Form followers said that the distance was not long enough for Epinard, and that he had been made the victim of bad racing luck in getting a poor start and in being bumped and shut off by Zev, the international champion of 1923.

When the time came for the second special at Aqueduct over the mile distance, Epinard was figured as the favorite, but he again finished second, with Ladkin first and Wise Counselor, the winner of the first race, behind Epinard.

Again the purse went to the winner and the glory to the loser. Haynes was criticized severely. Competent turf writers said the French colt had shown convincingly that he was the best horse of the day, and that it was a shame to have his record spoiled by the inferior riding of his jockey. They suggested openly to the colt's owner that he would have to get another jockey if he wanted to win the third race.

ed the right to install metal windows, boilers and other similar work on construction jobs here.

A labor war broke out over the claim of the structural iron workers and repeated acts of vandalism occurred in which thousands of dollars worth of property were destroyed.

McNamara will face Judge A. Collins in criminal court for arraignment.

Collins, serving as police judge in April, 1911, turned the labor leader over to William J. Burns to be taken to California, where he was wanted in connection with the Llewellyn Iron Works dynamiting.

McNamara contended that he was kidnapped by Burns and fought bitterly for his liberty. Later he pleaded guilty and served twelve years of a fifteen year sentence in San Quentin penitentiary.

His brother, James B. McNamara, pleaded guilty to murder for the dynamiting of the Los Angeles building on Oct. 1, 1910, in which 21 persons were killed. The brother is now serving a life sentence for the bombing.

Clarence Darrow, Chicago attorney who defended Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb in the Franks murder case, was chief attorney for the McNamaras.

At the time of the arrest of McNamara at his office here in 1911 enough dynamite to blow up a city block was found stored in the building, with caps, wires, alarm clocks and other material used in making infernal machines.

Upon his return from serving the sentence in California, McNamara was made business representative of the local union.

WORLD FLIGHT SHOWS WAR PERIL

General Patrick Tells United Press of Lessons Taught by Exploit of Army Fliers

TROOP SHIPS IN DANGER

Proves no Distance is Great Enough to Make U. S. Immune From Attack in Time of War

By LUDWELL DENNY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 9.—"The round-the-world flight proves that no distance is great enough to make the United States or any other country immune from attack in time of war."

This was the answer of Major General Mason M. Patrick, Chief of the U. S. Army Air Service, when the United Press asked him what was the chief military effect of the world flight.

"The flight gives added proof of the great difficulty of transporting troops in surface vessels without attack from the air," Patrick continued. He called attention to a recent White House statement that the flight raises the question whether the United States could again transport an army across the Atlantic, as in 1917.

Patrick emphasized that the flight demonstrated the commercial value of the airplane as a practical means of transportation to any place on the globe. This, according to other army officers, will stimulate commercial aeronautics in the United States which is absolutely essential to air preparedness for war.

Air preparedness, they say, depends upon a large number of commercial planes which can be converted quickly into fighting machines, and upon many factories which can begin turning out war planes on a moment's notice.

"The world flight was a great publicity stunt to arouse the American people to the value of aeronautics, and we have put the idea across," according to an officer closely connected with the flight. As a result, he predicted a boom in airplane building. Commercial competition will increase the number of engineers working on aeronautical problems was the case with the automobile. Then, if there is a war, America will have more and better planes than any other country, he concludes.

It is believed that as a result of the flight, American manufacturers of commercial craft, who have been at a disadvantage in freight competition, can now find a ready market for American machines abroad.

International commercial air trains is now possible army officers say. But officers who planned this flight do not expect the route taken by Lieut. Smith and his associates to become the permanent one. They say the direct routes across the Pacific and Atlantic are more practical. The Pacific airway of the future, they believe, is via Honolulu, Midway Island, the Philippines and China. The best Atlantic route is that taken by the record-breaking Navy fliers in the N C 4s—Portugal, Azores, fliers in the N C 4s Portugal, Azores, foundland Route.

Difficulties encountered by the world fliers in the Arctic on both the Pacific and Atlantic hops show that their route is possible only for a few months in the year, and therefore not practicable for commercial use.

But the Army fliers deliberately chose the hardest route to demonstrate that the airplane is not a toy or a fair weather machine, but is capable of sustaining flight in the worst weather and over the most treacherous territory.

Despite this severe test, army engineers who examine the world plane

Awaits Chair

Alex Kuczik, 19-year-old Akron youth, under death sentence for the murder of his cousin, Elizabeth Nagy, is basing his fight to escape the electric chair on Judge Caverly's decision in the Leopold-Loeb case. Governor A. V. Donahey, however, refuses to commute his sentence. He is granting a stay of execution, though, to permit an appeal to the state supreme court.

when they landed in Washington were surprised to find how little the planes had deteriorated. They say the fabric wings and the bodies are almost as good as when the trip began, only the motors wear out.

There was little chance to test the motor's endurance because, whenever one part went bad on the trip an entirely new motor was substituted at the next base. This was quicker than attempting repairs.

Leaking cylinders were in general responsible for most of the motor trouble and army experts have set to work to find a remedy. They say, however, that a gasoline motor at best is really too complicated for world flight.

But they add, it will not be necessary in the future for the planes which start to make the entire flight. Fresh planes can continue the flight from each base, after a rapid change of cargo.

The entire trip was made in about 350 hours of actual flying, or in less than 15 days. Officers here expect that a passenger plane will soon be developed which can do 150 miles an hour, and reduce the trip to 7 days.

Frequent pontoon trouble experienced on the flight raises the question whether this type of plane will be used for the purpose in the future. These were land planes, which were fitted with pontoons before each water jump. The true amphibian plane, however, is capable of making the change from sea to land plane and vice versa while in the air and at will. Locatelli, the Italian aviator who came to grief while accompanying the Americans on the Greenland hop, had difficulty with his amphibian type from the time he left Italy. Stuart McLaren, the British flier who got half way around the world and was forced down in the north Pacific, is said to retain confidence in the amphibian type of plane which he used. But engineers in general hold that the amphibian can never be developed into an ideal plane.

So Army air officers now say world flights of the future will probably employ land planes for continental flying and hydro-airplanes for sea jumps, and that pontoons will be dispensed with altogether. Although there are many seaplanes with pontoons, the Army engineers on the basis of this flight maintain that "boats" of the Navy N C 4 type are superior. In these "boats," as distant from so-called "seaplanes," the hull itself serves as a pontoon.

Perhaps the chief need revealed by the flight was for direction-finding apparatus, they say. Repeatedly the men were held up by fog. Fog caused the accident which put Commander Martin out of the race and almost cost him his life.

Army experts therefore have renewed their work with radio on direction finding apparatus, which they expect will enable both pilot and ground observers to know the exact location of a plane at any time under any conditions. Their goal is to perfect an instrument which will enable a pilot to land with safety in a fog.

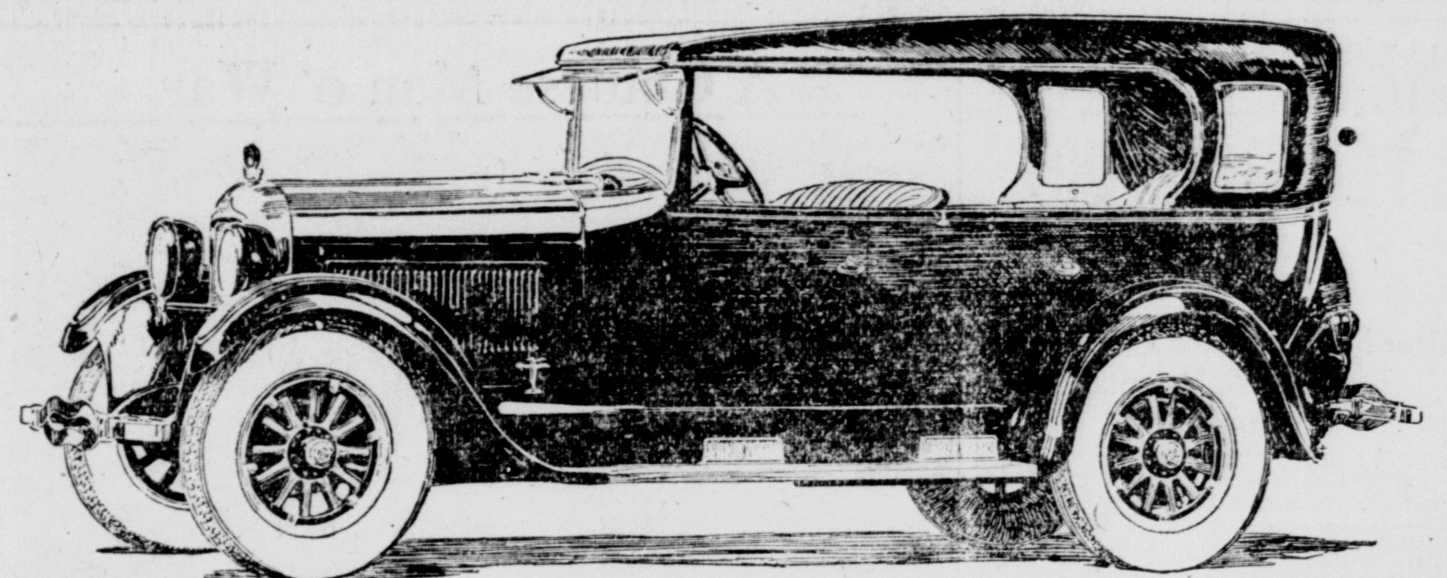

With the interest aroused in aviation by the world flight they expect a larger number of commercial aeronautical engineers to help army experts to solve such problems, which will make world flights of the future quicker and safer.

WAR ON GUN "TOTERS"

Garv, Ind., Oct. 9.—Chief of Police W. A. Forbes has declared war on gun "toters" here today.

He has issued an order for the enforcement of a city ordinance providing for the regulation of firearm sale by requiring all dealers to have written permits signed by the board of safety.

He said many of the offenders brought to jail are found to possess guns. The police chief believes much of the crime here would be prevented if the criminals find they cannot carry deadly weapons.

Duplex—exclusively Studebaker

—a new kind of car!

A closed and open car combined—the advantages of both at an open car price!

Value Points New Big Six

The New Duplex-Phaeton Body—it solves the closed-open car problem.

Genuine Balloon Tires.

New Satin-Lacquer Finish. Spanish chrome tanned leather upholstery.

New ideas in ease of operation and control.

Vibrationless Engine; forced-feed oiling system with new idea in oil supply. Full 75 h. p. block test.

Four-wheel Hydraulic Brakes optional—totally unlike any other system on American cars.

THE new Studebaker Duplex models give the comfort and protection of a closed car—with all the advantages of an open car, plus the good looks, riding comfort, interior finish and fittings that no open car could ever give!

Yet the price is no higher than that of an open car.

The appeal of its simplicity, convenience and durability is instant and decisive—with a touch of the hand you draw down the four roller enclosures and in thirty seconds your airy open car is a snug, comfortable enclosed car. With equal ease the enclosing sides can be rolled up into the roof and you have an open car again.

The Duplex body is especially built for the roller side enclosures, the roof is framed and shaped in steel—permanently beautiful and steel-strong to support the rollers, and the upper part of the Duplex is integral with the lower part. It is a unit body which harmonizes perfectly in beauty and function.

There is no other body like it on any other car at any price—because it is exclusively a Studebaker creation, made only by Studebaker. You can buy the Duplex from no other maker.

The new Duplex is available for each of the three new Studebaker chassis—the new STANDARD SIX, the SPECIAL SIX and the BIG SIX.

And these three new chassis are the evolution of the famous chassis of the five preceding years. Each year they have been improved and refined.

But this year the new models are climaxed with every tested and proved betterment that experience and science have thus far developed.

They are paramount exemplars of modern automobile design.

Simply stated, this means that money cannot buy more modernly perfect automobiles than the new Studebakers—we have the Duplex models ready for your inspection. Come in today!

MARRIED TWELVE YEARS BEFORE BABY CAME

Gladly Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Louisville, Nebraska.—"I was married twelve years before my boy was born. I had a lot of female troubles and had been treated by a physician for them but they continued much the same. Then I read your advertisement in the newspapers and thought I would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a good trial, for if it had helped others, why not me? I have taken 36 bottles of the medicine and am never without it in the house. My baby boy is three years old now and I sure am happy since I got relief from my troubles. When any one has troubles like mine, or any ways like mine, I am always glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound so that they will get the right kind of medicine." — Mrs. JOE NOVAK, Box 662, Louisville, Neb.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

SCOTTISH RITE TO HOLD ANNUAL PARTY

Rushville Members Receive Invitations to Attend Big Event on October 11

MANY FEATURES PLANNED

Invitations have been received by members of the Scottish Rite of Indiana, residing in Rushville and Rush county, to attend what promises to be the largest social event ever held in the state, it is understood. This comprises the annual Scottish Rite party and dance to be held Saturday evening, Oct. 11th and it is strictly for members of the order and their families, it is stated, with no admission fee except presentation of membership card.

Last year at the Scottish Rite party there was an attendance of more than 5,000 men, women and children, it is stated, and this year's event is expected to exceed that number.

In addition to dancing there will be cards, mah jongg, billiards, and kindred amusements and in order to assure ample room for the young army of guests arrangements have been made to hold the event in the Murat Shrine temple, which will be thrown open from sub-cellar to main-arets for this occasion and it is assured that there will be no crowding.

Accompanying the invitations received by Scottish Rite members there is a complete program and announcement concerning the fifty-ninth semi-annual convocation and reunion of the Rite to begin Monday, Nov. 17 and continue the remainder of the week.

Corinne Griffith Starring

"Brains, beauty, poise, wit! What an asset the modern American 'single wife' would be in the diplomatic service!"

And so the magnetic phrase "Single Wives" was coined and applied to the First National Production, co-starring Corinne Griffith and Milton Sills, which is now the attraction at the Princess Theatre.

"Single Wives" is said to be a startling "expose" of modern marriage and the peculiar conditions that have developed within it. The phrase was coined to designate wives who feel the lure of external attractions, whose husbands have forgotten the art of courtship.

MOM'N POP

The story was originally written for the screen by Earl Hudson, author of "Sundown" and "For Sale," and was adapted by Marian Orth. It is laid against an elaborate background of modern society. The settings are of exceptional beauty and with a supporting cast that well justifies the term "all-star."

The third corner of the triangle is played by Lou Tellegen, who as Martin Prayle nearly disrupts the domestic relations of the Jordans, played by Corine Griffith and Milton Sills. Kathryn Williams, Phillips Smalley and Henry B. Walthall form another triangle which influences the life of the Jordans. Jere Austin in the role of Doctor Lane, whose intimate proximity to the two families places him in the role of judge, philosopher and confidante; Phyllis Haver, John Patrick and many others complete the cast.

George Archambaud, whose "For Sale" and "The Common Law" were the sensations of the passing season, wielded the megaphone over "Single Wives" and has made of it a remarkable portrait of contemporary married life. It was made under the supervision of Earl Hudson.

Getting Nowhere Fast

ONE THING A SHOE SHINE CAN'T CONCEAL

My visits to the shoe shining parlor are pretty regular. I had an experience in one of them the other day that was very interesting, and while I don't know all the fine points of shoe retailing, I am sure I found out the one big reason why we are selling so many ankle fashioned oxfords. A powerful darky was working on a pair of oxfords on the next chair and he whipped his cloth over them till they fairly sparkled, but still they looked unsightly, for they gapped badly at the ankle.

As near as I could tell the man paid in the neighborhood of $10.00 for those oxfords. He got good leather for his money, but it takes more than good leather and shoe polish to give the effect of being well shod. Study this over, then come in and let Cox talk to you about it.

She Gets First Series Ticket

Washington fans have been clamoring for world series tickets for weeks—even long before the Nats definitely had won the pennant. But when the grandstand window opened and the sale formally began, hundreds were lined up, waiting for their pasteboards. The first to obtain one, though, was a woman, Elsie B. Tydings. She had been waiting three hours.

PURDUE GIRLS ARE GETTING HUSKIER

Going in Stronger This Year for Athletics Than Ever Before, Says Athletic Director

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 9—Girls at Purdue university are getting huskier. They are going in stronger this year for athletics than ever before, according to announcement today of M. L. Cleve, assistant director of athletics.

An increase of over fifty per cent of those enrolled for athletics last year have been enrolled this year, bringing the total enrollment up to nearly three hundred.

The Woman's Athletic Association of the university, and of which all co-eds taking part in athletics are members, annually awards monogram to girls who have "scored" 250 points, while an official "W. A. A. monogram and sweater is awarded the girl" scoring 500 points.

These points are awarded for making certain teams and for performing athletic feats such as hiking a certain distance, various swimming performances and the like.

Activities this year include: volleyball, playground baseball, basketball, tennis, cross country walking, relays, hiking, swimming, horseshoe pitching, and rifle shooting. The women are divided into twelve organizations which take part in the above events while, in addition, a number of class teams take part in such sports as basketball and tennis.

Moderate participation of women in athletics is urged by university officials, whose aim this year is to get every co-ed to take part at least in one branch of the sport events which are offered.

SOLVE PROBLEMS AT NOVEL CLINIC

Problems That Have Worried and Perplexed People for Ages Being Solved at "Habit Clinic"

CONDUCTED AT TOPEKA, KA.

Psychiatrist Declares Diagnosis and Treatment of Children Will Remedy Conditions

Topeka Kan Oct 9—Problems that have worried and perplexed all sexes and all ages ever since the domestic difficulties of Adam and Eve are being solved at the "habit clinic" for children conducted here by the Kansas Mental Hygiene Society.

For instance there is the run-away-boy, the lazy boy, the suspicious wife who is constantly accusing her husband of infidelity, the cruel husband, the backward school child, the professional complaining invalid, the daughter who quarrels with her mother, the girl who insists upon staying at the home of her chum every night, the youth who steals money from his father, the habitual drunkard, and the man who doesn't "feel like work."

These and many others with many and diverse afflictions are weekly visitors at the "habit clinic," Dr. Karl A. Menninger, psychiatrist, declares diagnosis and treatment of children will remedy conditions which contribute to a large percent of the unhappiness of individuals and families in later life.

Things are not exactly as they should be at the Topeka clinic, the only of its kind in this part of the country, would not have been established, Dr. Menninger said.

If John develops into a grouchy, morose, dyspeptic, people tap their heads and murmur, "Poor boy, he should have had more iron and enzymes when he was a baby."

When John throws a fit of jealousy and murders his wife because she smiled at the ice man his action is termed "pure cussedness."

Whereas if "Poor John" had gone to a mental clinic when he was a child he might have been cured of his mental habits and his tragedy in later life averted, the experts reason.

The clinic deals in crime and neuropsychiatric class largely, but it is making a small beginning in the mental habit work with children.

Children are sent to dental clinics, are weighed, and measured periodically and have their eyes, ears, noses and throats examined.

One of the greatest contributing mental factors to failure and unhappiness, Dr. Menninger believes, is the inferiority complex. This feeling, he says, is often developed by thoughtless parents, ignorant of psychology, who constantly tell a child he is worthless, dumb or slow, or who make derogatory comparisons of him with other children of the neighborhood.

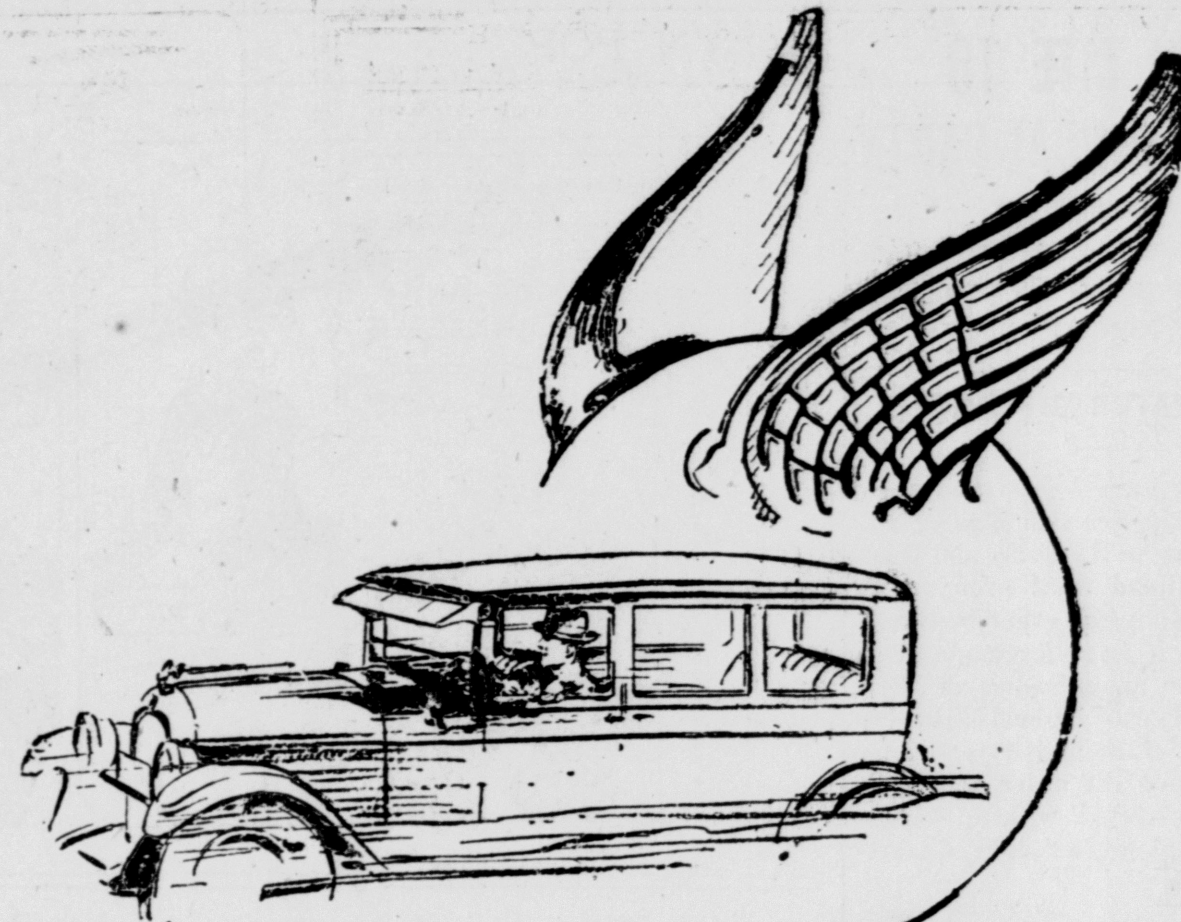

Dr. Menninger asserted parents could also learn much at habit clinics.

The clinic does much with children to help them overcome jealousy, tantrums of temper, obstinacy and lying destructiveness.

Mental illness in a family is the cause of divorce and of the upset of home, Dr. Menninger declares. A prerequisite to sane living is a healthy mind, he said.

Decatur—Schoolboys here have a new sport. It is shooting out windows at the high school. Chief of Police Joel Reynolds is on the war path.

Greensburg—Music hath charms for the savage thief, Miss Ella Brown, school teacher, here reported a talking machine and all the records stolen from her school room.

The Talk of the Town—A Ride Tells Why

The success of the Chrysler Six—so pronounced that it dominates all motoring talk everywhere—is easily understood if you take one ride in the car.

In design, in performance, in riding qualities, in economy it makes far-reaching contributions to the advancement of motoring.

The Chrysler Six has immediately taken its place in the finest homes in the nation—been accepted and adopted by men everywhere whose names are synonymous with shrewdness of choice, judgment in engineering.

It is a sign of the times in progressive design—the dawn of a new day in conservation and application of power, utilization of space, unexampled economy combined with absolutely even, consistent performance.

Ride in the Chrysler Six and find out why it is different, why it is superior.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Chrysler's attractive plan. Dealers Everywhere.

as it should be. Do not be DECEIVED by people who claim they have a stove equal to the FLORENCE with the damper in front of the Fire Pot. As Mr. J. B. Howard says, it will not function as it should, and other makes of stoves are only imitations and NOT THE ORIGINAL FLORENCE HOT BLAST.

THE DAMPER BACK OF THE FIRE POT PREVENTS PUFFING from the burning of soft coal or slack, and throwing soot and dirt out in your room, because it burns the gases that cause the explosion. With the damper back of the Fire Pot you have the best floor heater on the market and the only Jointless Leg Bottom and Base with full radiation that has ever been made.

ALL "DRUMMED UP" EVIDENCE, HE SAYS

which went into the records of the Brookhart committee has been repudiated by the witnesses who were responsible for it, including not only George Remus and Gaston B. Means, but others whose names will be made public before election day.

Steck declared he had a letter "which shows that Brookhart must have connived with Fink" to bring Roxie Stinson before the committee with her story before Fink was commissioned by Brookhart to go to Columbus, Ohio after her.

Petitions are in circulation, Steck said, requesting an investigation by Attorney General Stone of the investigating committee headed by Brookhart.

Preposterous, Says Wheeler

Sacramento, Calif., Oct. 10— "Fink's story is preposterous on the face of it, that it needs no reply," Senator Burton K. Wheeler, said today in answer to the charges of L. F. Fink of Buffalo, that Wheeler had offered inducements to get testimony in the Senator Daugherty investigating committee of which he was prosecutor.

"Of course it is absolutely false," he added. "It is chiefly important in showing the length to which Harry Daugherty and the Republican cohorts are willing to go and feel they must go with their endeavor to elect Calvin Coolidge."

"Just as a sample of idiocy, I was investigating Daugherty and assailing the Republican administration. How could it be possible for me, as a Democrat, to get anyone appointed to office? Particularly how in the world could I get Daugherty himself to recommend any one for the federal judgeship when he was the attorney general under fire?"

"Fink's affidavit says I was promising stock market profits to Miss Roxie Stinson, my chief witness. I know so little about the stock market that there never has been a day of my life when I could have given anybody an iota of worth-while information."

Brookhart Will Reply

Washington, Iowa, Oct. 10—Questioned regarding charges made by Daniel Steck, Democratic candidate for United States senator, that he helped "frame the Daugherty investigation," Senator Smith W. Brookhart, chairman of the investigating committee, said today.

"If crooked Iowa politicians want to join forces with the crooked Ohio gang, they are privileged to do so. I'll answer Steck when I speak at Ottumwa, his home town."

ACCOUNTS IN BAD SHAPE

Vincennes Ind., Oct. 10—Depositors in the defunct Northside state bank here will receive 48.7 on the dollar, it was announced today by accountants who have investigated the affairs of the bank for the receiver. According to J. B. E. LaPlante, the receiver, the accountants never had investigated where records were in worse condition.

SHENANDOAH NEARS ITS GOAL ON COAST

Sighted in Arizona Today Enroute to San Diego, Which it Expected to Reach by Evening

Gila, Ariz., Oct. 10—The Shenandoah passed over here at 9:43 a. m. Mountain Time.

Red Rock, Arizona, Oct. 10—The naval dirigible Shenandoah soared over Red Rock at 7:09 a. m. Mountain time.

San Diego, Calif., Oct. 10—The Shenandoah, giant navy dirigible making its first flight to the Pacific Coast from its home port at Lakehurst N. J., was within 400 miles of its first coastal objective today and was expected in this city during the day.

A message from Steins, New Mexico, said the big airship passed over that town at 2:18 a. m., and over San Simon at 2:41 a. m. (mountain time). It was in radio communication with the University of Arizona.

The airship passed over Lordsburg N. Mexico, at 2:35 a. m., according to another message and over El Paso Texas, at 1:30 last night.

The Shenandoah left Fort Worth, Texas, at 9:44 yesterday morning.

SUN DIAL PHONE CHECKS TIME

How many times, in the course of a time-limit pay phone call have you been interrupted by a sweet voice saying: "Time's up, another nickel please!" By the time the nickel is produced the call frequently is "gone." The sand dial attachment, here shown, is expected to help out in this situation, for it takes just five minutes for the sand to run through and the phone user can watch his minutes slipping by.

"LISTEN LESTER" — OCTOBER 13 and 14

We are striving to make this a dependable and worth while meat market. I believe you'll like trading at this market because we have a variety of Smoked Meats, such as Swift's, Kingan's, Armour's Miller & Hart's and Kahn's American Beauty. Also at all times buy Pork, Lamb and Veal of the choicest quality. Health is of vital importance to every family. Do not neglect buying the most needed part — MEAT. I wish to say that people do not always have the opportunity of sending children to a meat market where they are treated as grown-ups. We specialize in preparing Fancy Steaks and Roasts for your Sunday dinner. Why not a Crown Lamb Roast or Leg o' Lam? Don't forget we carry thirty varieties of American and Imported Cheese.

Peace with all men:—Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord. Hebrews 12:14.

Prayer:—We would, O Lord, by Thy grace, exercise ourselves to live as far as possible in peace with all men.

Fall Selected Seed

The superiority of fall selected and properly stored seed corn has been demonstrated during the four years in the corn testing work carried on in this county.

The test has always told the story whether the seed was selected and dried out thoroughly before it was injured by freezing, or whether it was selected after having been somewhat damaged by cold weather. Early selection and proper storage was found to mean a high percent of germination and strong vitality.

Now is the time to look to the selection of seed corn, while the stock is still more or less green. By selecting at this time, it is possible to pick out fully matured ears from stalks that are healthy and vigorous, thus avoiding the use of seed from diseased or prematurely ripened stalks.

The method of storing is regarded more important by corn experts than time of selection, as far as the germination and vitality is concerned. Tests in this county have made manifest that farmers will profit if they watch the method storing seed corn closely.

There have been cases where field selected seed proved inferior because it had not been properly stored. It was either piled up too closely, or was stored in a place that was poorly ventilated. For best results, experience has proved, seed should be hung up so that the ears will not come in contact with each other and in a room that can be opened and aired thoroughly.

With the county in the midst of an intensive campaign to improve its corn crop and move up to the position it deserves as a seed corn county, loyal Rush county farmers will do their utmost this fall to select good seed and store in carefully and under the proper conditions by doing so, they will not alone help their own county, but will help themselves because of the almost certain shortage of seed corn next spring.

Voting Intelligently

In a comparatively short time the people of the country must go to the polls and choose another set of federal lawmakers and executives, as well as an army of state and local officials. The progress and prosperity of the land depends upon the decision made in the secrecy of the polling booth on November 4.

Many people speak contemptuously of politicians and government and groan about high taxes and legislative inaction, yet do practically nothing to improve these conditions under which they fret. Not merely do they take no part in political organizations, but they will not read carefully the news of political developments, study of which will enable them to act intelligently in selecting public officials.

Too many voters decide how to cast their ballots by the current talk on the streets. Others vote for a candidate because his picture makes him look like a capable fellow. Still others are won over by ardent hand-shaking and think that a genial manner and the appearance of good fellowship are more important than business ability and breadth of mind and experience in public affairs.

Then these folks complain because our lawmakers are not able to correct all of the evils from which they think this country is suffering.

The country will have good government only when all of the people form the habit of attentive reading of good newspapers and magazines so that they will be informed on the big questions of the campaign and the records of the various aspirants.

Bus Business Profitable

The announcement that two Indianapolis business men paid $2,210,000 for a 99-year lease on a site for a bus terminal in Indianapolis, and that they will erect a building costing a half million dollars, leads to the conclusion that the bus business is a very profitable enterprise.

And it ought to be. The man who hauls passengers in his motor bus has to pay for gasoline and oil and upkeep, but he doesn't have any maintenance expense; neither is he regulated by the state in any way and he is privileged to do just about as he pleases and wear out Indiana's state roads faster than the state highway commission can build them.

Contrast this with the steam and electric lines, which not only have to buy and keep up an expensive road-bed and system of tracks, but are compelled to invest in land for a right-of-way, upon all of which they pay an enormous sum of taxes annually. And besides, they are put to large expense in keeping pace with the requirements of the state public service commission and the interstate commerce commission.

Just how long are the people of Indiana going to permit the bus owners to profit at the expense of the taxpayers?

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—For one week, at least, Washington has experienced all the thrills of a metropolis. Like the old prospector who has made a strike and plays millionaire for a day, she has had her fling.

From a rather easy-going, deliberate, if not today then tomorrow will do town, following all the circumlocutions of red tape and maintaining a formal and dignified mien befitting the national capital, Washington changed for a few brief days to the hectic hurry and mad rush of a busy burg that has important matters on hand on which hangs nothing less important than the fate of the universe.

The streets were packed with jostling, bustling crowds rushing madly hither and yon. Taxicabs dashed wildly through the thronged thoroughfares. Hawkers called their wares along the curbs and speculatively inclined gentlemen hung out signs announcing wares for sale more precious than gold and rubies—tickets to the series.

For after 38 years of striving, Washington had at last landed a world's championship baseball series, and for the time nothing else counted. The whole town went on a spree, and a hundred thousand or so fanatical fans from other cities rushed in to help the jollification.

THERE'LL be a headache when it is all over, of course. The high elation of such periods doesn't last.

And when Washington settles back to the humdrum of being just the national capital, with nobody more important than the president and the cabinet members, or occasional foreign dignitaries like the Prince of Wales or King Benjamin to pique its interest, things are going to seem a bit of a letdown. There may even be a bit of remorse, as the residents view accumulation of work left undone which must now be tackled, and the deficit in their savings accounts due to dare-devil plunging on grandstand seats at world series prices.

But for the once it was one grand orgy. Inauguration of presidents, parades of returned victorious armies, never seen the state capital to such heights of delirious recklessness. Even Calm Cal Coolidge celebrated his nineteenth wedding anniversary at the ball park—and Cal is beyond all question the mildest, coolest and most collected ball fan in the capital.

BEING president, or even chief justice of the august and theoretically sedate supreme court, need not rob a man of his human qualities.

At least so thinks William Howard Taft, who has served in both jobs. Dignity and formality are all right, and within bounds must be maintained in these jobs, Bill thinks, but it does public officials good to come down off their high horse and think and talk like average human beings once in a while instead of seeking to maintain an attitude of superman superiority.

Bill demonstrated his belief, both by words and actions, the other day when the members of the supreme court gathered at the White House to pay their respects to the president before turning their judicial labors after the summer's vacation.

It was, of course, a formal occasion—so long as they were with the president. Some of the members of the court attempted to continue the formalities, after they emerged from the executive presence, when photographers asked them if they wouldn't pose for a photograph. They demurred. Posing for pictures wasn't seemly for supreme court justices, they suggested.

Then up spoke Bill, the chief justice of them all, in informal terms:

"Come on," he said, waving his arms at the reluctant ones. "Can the chatter. Line up and do your stuff. You might as well; they'll get you anyhow. And smile while you're about it."

Which, we submit, shows that Bill is a pretty good scout.

Next thing you know everybody will be talking about Christmas.

They have been saying jazz music was done with for about three years, but it isn't played out yet.

Lots of fellows stand around and make excuses while lots of other fellows are making a success.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 12

CLOSING GAME OF SEASON

Rushville Baseball Club Will Meet
A. B. C. Team Again Sunday

The Rushville baseball club will meet the colored A. B. C. players here again Sunday in an effort to end the season with a victory. This is the fourth game scheduled between these two teams. The first game was won in ten innings by Rushville, the second game was called on account of rain, and last Sunday the locals won, 3 to 2, in 4½ innings, when rain again postponed the game.

The local team will have Shaw and Sharp on the mound with Ricketts receiving. The colored team will have Winters and Davis for their battery. It will be the last game this season.

GOSPORT CANCELS THE GAME

Due to the Gosport football team cancelling the game with Arlington for Sunday, to be played at Gosport, the Arlington team will meet the Shelbyville Eagles, old time rivals, and a great game is expected.

The game will be played at Arlington, and will be called at 2:30 o'clock. Shelbyville has in their line-up the Boggerman boys, Fisher, Conn brothers, Mitchell and many other stars, and their line-up is strong. George Wilcoxon, well known referee, will handle the game.

JUDGE LEADS SLUGGERS

The Giants, batting .279, have three sluggers in the enviable "first five" who have participated in all the games. Joe Judge, Senator first baseman, however, continues to show the way to the players of both teams.

FIVE LEADING HITTERS

Kelly, Giants	25	8	.320

Of the players participating in four or more games, Terry, Giants, with .500 percentage and Peckinpaugh, Washington with .455 are leaders.

Ruel, Senators, who out of 16 trips to the plate has failed to hit safely and Jackson, New York with an average of .095 are the weakest sluggers of those who have played every game.

ST. PAUL WINS ONE

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 10—One good inning in which the St. Paul American Association pennant winner scored four runs gave the locals the sixth contest over the Baltimore Orioles, International League champions, by a 5 to 2 score in the junior world's series yesterday. Baltimore has won three games, St. Paul two, and one was tied. Five wins are necessary to take the series. The weather was clear and cool for the seventh game here today.

Laton, Ky.,—Epinard, French champion thoroughbred, went a mile and a quarter in the impressive time of 2:07 3-5 in his final test for the third international race here tomorrow.

One of the Most Spectacular Plays in Series

The Giants had filled the bases in the third inning of the fifth world series game at the Polo Grounds, New York. Bentley was on third. Young lined to Rice in right field. Rice whipped the ball to Walter Johnson, who relayed it to Ruel. Here you see Ruel putting the ball on Bentley. Umpire Connolly is waving Bentley out with his mask, as George Kelly and the Giant bat boy sadly look on.

Senators Win Deciding Game And Series in Twelfth Inning

swung and missed on the third strike Ruel is out, Barnes to Terry. Morigridge up, swung and missed the third strike. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning

New York—Thus far this game has been a magnificent pitching duel between Morigridge and Barnes. Terry, strike one. He swung and missed the second one; ball one, ball two, strike; he was called out. Wilson is batting, strike one, ball one, ball two, ball three; was out, Bluege to Judge. Jackson is up, ball one; goes out, Bluege to Judge. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Washington—McNeely is the first man up. He swung and missed the third strike. Harris is up. With three balls and two strikes, he hit a home run into the right field bleachers for the first hit and first run for the Senators. Wilson, right fielder, was slightly injured when he dived over the railing after the ball. He went back into the game and made another sensational play by grabbing Rice's hard hit ball. Goslin was out to Harris, unassisted. One run, one hit, no errors.

Fifth Inning

New York—Marberry started to warm up in the Washington bullpen. Gowdy flied to Harris who ran back in center for the catch. Barnes out, Bluege to Judge. Lindstrom singled over Taylor's head and took second when Goslin fumbled the ball. It was scored as a double. Frisch lined to Goslin who made a nice catch. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Washington—Judge out, Terry to Barnes, who covered first. Bluege out, Jackson to Terry. Taylor fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning

New York—Johnson went to the bullpen to warm up for the Senators and was given a tremendous ovation. Marberry was still working out. Young walked. Kelly singled past Bluege to center. Young stopped at third. Meusel batting for Terry. Morigridge was taken out of the box and Marberry, champion relief pitcher, came into the box. Meusel flied to Rice. Young scoring after the catch and Kelly holding first. Rice made no effort to catch Young at the plate. Wilson singled over Marberry's head to center. Kelly slid into third after the senators gathered around Marberry and went back to their places. Jackson hit to Judge who fumbled and held the ball without making a play. Kelly scored and Wilson stopped at second. It was an error for Judge. Gowdy hit through Bluege. Wilson scoring, and Jackson out to third. It was a hard drive at Bluege, but was scored as an error. Barnes flied to Rice. Jackson held third when Rice made a sensational throw to the plate. Lindstrom fanned. Three runs, two hits, two errors.

Washington—Meusel went to left field for the Giants. Wilson to center and Kelly to first base. Ruel out, Lindstrom to Kelly. Marberry out, Lindstrom to Kelly. McNeely flied to Young who made another nice catch. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning

New York—Frisch flied to Ruel, who fell over the wall on a fan in the box. Young walked, Kelly out, Taylor to Judge. Young stopping at second. Meusel out to Marberry who touched him on the base line. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Washington—Harris reached first on Jackson's fumble. It was a hard chance and went for a single. Rice hit into a double play, Kelly to Jackson. Goslin hit to right field for a single. Judge flew to Wilson. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Eighth Inning

New York—Wilson fanned. Jackson beat out a hit to Bluege, who fumbled. It was an error for Bluege. Gowdy flew to Goslin and Jackson held first base. Barnes fanned. No runs, no hits, one error.

Washington—Bluege fouled to Gowdy back of the plate. Leibold batted for Taylor. Leibold doubled down the left field foul line. Ruel reached first base and Leibold stopped at third when Kelly fumbled his hard hit grounder. It was scored as a hit and was his first hit of the series. Tate batted for Marberry. Tate walked, filling the bases. Shirley ran for Taylor. McNeely flied to Meusel who made a fast throw in and held the runners on their bases. Leibold scored and Ruel dashed over the plate on Harris' single to left. It was a hard drive that took a bound over Lindstrom's head. Shirley stopped at second on the play. The score was tied and police had to get the spectators off the field. Barnes was taken out of the box and Nehf went in for the Giants. Rice out, Kelly unassisted. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning

New York—Walter Johnson now pitching for Washington. He received a tremendous ovation. Miller went to third base for Washington. Zachary and Zahnizer went out to the bullpen for Washington. Lindstrom popped to Miller in front of the plate. Frisch hit to centerfield for a triple. Rice's fast throw kept it from being a home run. Young went to second without a play. It was scored as a stolen base. Meusel out, Miller to Judge. Miller almost pulled Judge off the base with a fast throw. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Washington—Goslin first up, strike one. He swung; goes out, Frisch to Kelly. Judge is at bat, singled over second. Bluege comes to bat, strike one, ball one, strike two; he swung and missed. Judge went to third, and Bluege was safe at first, when Jackson dropped Kelly's assist. McQuillan replaced Nehf on the mound. Miller is up, ball one; hit into a double Jackson to Frisch—to Kelly. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Tenth Inning

New York—Wilson is at bat, ball one, ball two, ball three, strike one called, ball four; he walked. Jackson is up, foul strike one, ball one, strike two, he swung; went out on strikes. Gowdy comes to bat, foul strike one, hit into a double, Johnson to Bluege to Judge. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Washington—Ruel is up first, was out. Frisch to Kelly. Johnson is at bat, flied to Wilson. McNeely is batting, fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Eleventh Inning

New York—Groh batting for McQuillan, singled to Rice. Southworth running for Groh. Lindstrom up, sacrifices, Judge to Harris, Frisch up, fanned. Young is batting, was given four straight balls, for his fourth time. Kelly struck out. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Washington—Bentley is now pitching for the Giants. Harris is at bat, ball one; was out on a fly to Young. Rice flied to Wilson, and Goslin next up, doubled to center field. Judge is up, ball one, ball two, ball three, ball four, was walked on purpose. Bluege is up. Meusel Young swap positions in the outfield. Meusel forced Judge, Jackson to Frisch. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Twelfth Inning

New York—Meusel up, singled to right. Wilson up, fanned. Jackson is batting; forced Meusel, Bluege to Harris. Gowdy was out on a long fly to Goslin. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Washington—Miller is first up, ball one, high; was out, Frisch to Kelly. Ruel is batting. Gowdy dropped Ruel's foul fly; foul strike two, ball two. Ruel doubled down the left field foul line. It was his second hit of the day. Johnson is, at bat, safe at first when Jackson fumbled his grounder Ruel stayed at second. McNeely is up, foul strike one, Ruel scored on McNeely's single to left, winning the 1924 World Series. One run, two hits, two errors.

By HENRY L. FARRELL

Washington, Oct. 10—Still puffing from the strain and pressure of a game where bravery alone pulled them through the valiant Washington Senators faced another crisis here today when they lined up for the final contest with the New York Giants.

Twenty four hours ago the experts had long faces and were willing to tell Back Harris that he was a nice boy but that he was too much of a kid to beat one of old man McGraw's teams.

Some one must have told the youthful manager these very words because it was a poke by him over the heads of long George Kelly and Blonde Frank Frisch that drove in two runs yesterday, won the old ball game and squared the series at three-all.

Only Washington fans believed that the Senators had a chance yesterday. The faith of a city in a ball team never has been displayed as it was then. There was not a doubt that the Senators were going to win and the city worked itself into near hysteria seeking information about tickets for a seventh game that the critics thought and declared would not be necessary.

It took only a timely single by Back Harris, a sensational catch by Rice and a wonderful stop by Peck in the ninth to upset the minds of those critics.

Peck's great stop and throw in the ninth inning. Meusel bid for a single over second, forced Southworth at second and saved the game but it may also prove to have lost today's battle.

It was doubtful this morning, Back Harris said, that Peck would be able to play, but Washington figured, with the championship of the world hanging on one game, and a victory meaning a difference of about $2,000 old boy would be back in the game.

Last Game of Season. Admission 35c.

SUNDAY, OCT. 12TH

Tere will be choir practice at the Main Street Christian church tonight promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Every member is urged to be there.

The Misses Irene Reardon, Janet Dean and Brenda Kinsinger went to Connersville Monday evening and furnished an evening's entertainment at the K. of C. Banquet.

The ladies of the First Baptist church met at the church Thursday for an all day meeting and planned and sewed for the chicken supper and Bazaar the church will give October 24.

Mrs. Bertha Logan, Mrs. Elizabeth Amos, Mrs. Sarah Gaffin, Mrs. Rena Warner, and Miss Emma Blackledge have returned from Marion, Ind., where they attended the state conference of the D. A. R.

Miss Lucile Irene Lewis entertained twelve of her little girl friends Thursday afternoon at her home in West Second street, honoring her birthday anniversary. Games were enjoyed and delicious refreshments were served.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of St. Paul's M. E. church met Thursday afternoon in the parlors of the church, with Mrs. H. W. Hargett as the leader. A splendid program was given, which was followed by a social hour and the serving of refreshments. Mrs. D. D. VanOsdel being the hostess.

How Skinny Kids Can Grow Robust

Weak, undernourished, underweight boys and girls who are peevish, fretful and sickly need McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets.

Cod Liver Oil would do just as well but what parent would be so cruel as to give them the horrible nasty tasting, ill smelling stuff, when sugar-coated cod liver oil tablets made by McCoy's Laboratories of New York are as easy to take as candy and won't upset their delicate stomachs.

There's more vitamins of the first class in cod liver oil than in anything else and for that reason thin, scraggly, sickly children commence to live up and take on good healthy flesh after McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets have been taken for just a few days.

"The listless, backward boy needs McCoy's"

Be sure and ask F. B. Johnson and Company or Pitman and Wilson or any good druggist for McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablet, if you want your delicate children to become strong, robust and active.

For grown-ups they are just as wonderful—one woman gained 15 pounds in five weeks, 60 tablets 60 cents and if they don't put 5 pounds of good firm flesh on any thin man or woman in 30 days, get your money back.

Mrs. Hugh Mauzy delightfully entertained the Music Study Club Thursday afternoon. She was assisted by Miss Brenda Kinsinger and Miss Helen Jaehne. The subject discussed was "Rhythm" and Mrs. Nell Ashworth and Miss Jaehne illustrated with songs, accompanied by Mrs. Mauzy. At the close of the program dainty refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Bay Whitton of Raleigh delightfully entertained with a miscellaneous shower for Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mosburg, Saturday evening. Many useful presents were received. The color scheme of yellow and white was carried out during the evening. About eighty guests were present. Light refreshments were served at a late hour. Mrs. Mosburg was formerly, Miss Elizabeth Dickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dickson.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Patterson of Arlington gave a beautiful reception at their home, honoring their wedding anniversary, recently. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Mary Patterson assisted by Miss Bessie Clark. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dishinger, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gurasha, Mrs. Viola Yaw of Chicago, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. F. Roberts, of Dayton, O., the Misses Bessie Clark, Muriel Blevins, Carrie Hull, Huld Black, Frances Yaw, Lavina Hubbard, George Stevens, Ora Patterson, Wyatt Smith, Hubert Cloestock, William Knowles, Howard Gibson, Mrs. Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Stevens. The guests were entertained with music and two tables of bridge were in session.

INDICTED FOR HAZING

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 10—Four Hartford City youths are under indictment today for manslaughter following a grand jury probe of the killing of Raymond Morris during a hazing clash between high school students. William Duff is charged with striking the blow that killed Morris, while Philip Holton, Raymond Stump and Enoch Fuller are charged with refereeing the fight between Duff and Morris.

D. C. STEPHENSON SUES FOR $125,000 DAMAGES

Former "Old Man" of Indiana Klan Files Suit Against Hiram W. Evans, Imperial Wizard

CONSPIRED TO BURN YACHT

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 10—D. C. Stephenson, former "Old Man" of the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana, today filed suit for $125,000 damages against Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Klan, and Walter Bossert, Indiana grand dragon.

He alleges the two Klan officials conspired to burn his private yacht at Toledo, O., on June 27.

The yacht, the Reomar 11, was destroyed after an explosion in the lagoon of the Toledo Yacht club.

Stephenson alleges the Klan officials formulated the plan to destroy his property at a meeting here and that the plot was carried out under their direction.

Stephenson and the Klan officials have been in frequent controversy for months. He is understood to be backing a new secret organization opposed to the Klan.

WILL BESHORTEST ON RECORD

England's Election Campaign Will Draw to Close October 29

London, Oct. 10—Facing the shortest election campaign on record and the shortest permissible under the law, party headquarters today were scenes of whirlwind activity, none of them having closed their doors through the night.

Prime minister MacDonald and his labor cabinet whose defeat in Commons over a minor domestic affair may bring to a close England's first labor regime after only nine months in office, continued drafting the party manifesto for the election October 29.

DAWES TOLD THAT WYOMING IS SAFE and is due in Atchison, Kans., at 9:15 a. m. Saturday.

By FRAZER EDWARDS

Aboard LaFollette Special, Enroute to Cincinnati, Oct. 10—With assurances of Michigan independent leaders that he would carry the state in November, Senator LaFollette left Detroit today to carry his fight for the presidency into Ohio.

The Senator was told that he could feel certain of carrying several counties in the upper Michigan peninsula and that he would get a tremendous vote in the great Detroit industrial centers.

The fiery independent leader said today that he felt that he had not been misled by empty promises. The eager, attentive crowd of 6,000 which paid $1 admission to the Arena Gardens last night to hear him flay the two old parties leads him to believe that his campaign will be successful.

POSSESSION OF CHILD IS SOUGHT

has filed a motion for a chance of venue from the county.

A. C. Stevens, attorney for Silverton Miller, charged with assault and battery with intent to kill, this morning filed a motion to quash the first count of the affidavit. The first count is based on the theory that the defendant shot at Albert Carr last Sunday night with the premeditated malice and intent upon killing him. The motion will be argued before the case is set for trial.

The suit of Fechtman and Cooley of Connersville against Morris Cohen an action to replevin an automobile, has been dismissed.

INDICTED FOR MURDER

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 10—Claude Belzer, 18, today was under indictment by the Hamilton county grand jury on a charge of first degree murder for the killing of Robert Tompkins. Belzer confessed he killed Tompkins to get money to go to a picture show and later repudiated the confession.

4-H GIRL'S CLUB OF MANILLA HOLDS EXHIBIT

Miss Ruth Grishaw, Rushville Home Economics Teacher, Acts as Judge of Display

SUMMARY OF SUMMER WORK

The Walker township 4-H Girl's club was giving their exhibit today in the school at Manilla, with the summary of the summer's work on display by the class in sewing. The class in Walker township is sponsored by Mrs. Tamlin Hoff, and has made rapid headway since being organized.

The display was on all day and will be held over this evening after supper, in order that the school patrons and others who attend the community meeting in the school, will have an opportunity of examining the work. The meeting tonight will also include a Fire Prevention campaign, and Newman T. Miller, state fire marshal, will be the principal speaker.

Miss Ruth Grishaw, home economics teacher of the Rushville high school, went to Manilla this afternoon to judge the display of the work accomplished by the girl's class.

MAJORITY SEEN IN 6TH DISTRICT

Reports From Indiana Republican
Headquarters Indicate Entire Sweep of Ticket

STRAW POLL WAS TAKEN

Newspaper of This District Conducted
Vote, Giving Coolidge 597 and Davis 152

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 10—The Sixth district will give a substantial majority to the Republican ticket in the coming election, according to reports to the Indiana State Republican headquarters here which indicate that the entire national, state and congressional ticket will sweep the district. It is believed that Calvin Coolidge will be given the largest vote ever given a presidential candidate by the district.

A straw vote being taken by one of the leading Republican newspapers of the district gives Coolidge 597 votes as compared with 152 votes for John M. Davis, his Democratic opponent, and 96 for Robert

M. LaFollette, the "third party" candidate.

In the race for governor, Ed Jackson, secretary of state, has received 473 votes as compared with 299 for his opponent. It is believed, however, that Jackson will run fully as strong as Coolidge when the real votes are cast on Tuesday, November 4. Jackson has always been popular through out the district as he was in the Sixth, at Newcastle, where he began his political career.

Representative Richard N. Elliott continues to lead his Democratic opponent, the mayor of Richmond, by a substantial majority, and political observers express the belief that Elliott will have little difficulty in winning. These same observers point out that Elliott has always been very popular and has always been loyal to his constituents. They also emphasize the fact that it is just as necessary to have a Republican House of Representatives as it is to have a Republican President.

Women Who Look Old

In many cases they are not old in years, but because they are overworked, over-tired, nervous and run down, ailments have developed peculiar to their sex and this condition makes them look years older than they actually are. Such women should consider the remarkable record held by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In a recent canvass among over one hundred and twenty-one thousand women who had used it, ninety-eight out of every one hundred women reported benefit from its use.

Fertilize Wheat with Phosphate Only

Very rarely does Wheat need any Fertilizer except Phosphate only.

Phosphate is always the cheapest Fertilizer.

Use ANACONDA TREBLE SUPERPHOSPHATE, one bag (125 pounds) to the acre.

With weak and inferior phosphate you have to use at least THREE bags, and yet it costs more.

Save money, time and labor by using ANACONDA.

Purdue recommends Phosphate alone for Wheat in most cases. There is very little soil that really requires Potash or Ammonia. Besides, these always cost a good deal more than Phosphate.

Try straight Phosphate once and you will likely find that you cannot detect the absence of the others — your yield will be just as great without them.

Everybody had to do without potash and ammonia during the war, for the most part, but their yields did not show any falling off.

J. M. Busby, and his brother, I. V. Busby, of Hamilton, Ind., both got heavy increases per acre with straight Anaconda, and their wheat tested 63 pounds per bushel.

THREE PARDONS IN WHOLE YEAR

One of These Was Refused by Gov. Branch, According to Annual Report of Board

435 PLEAS WERE REFUSED

Report Also Shows 35 Paroles and 45 Cases of Clemency Acted on Favorably

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 10—Only three pardons were granted by the state board of pardons during the fiscal year which ended September 30, Adolph Sidensticker, secretary of the board announced today. One of these were refused by Governor Branch.

The board, during the year has turned or refused 435 pleas for clemency; has issued 35 paroles, commuted the sentences of forty-five and granting other clemency pleas to seventy-three. This makes a total of 187 pleas granted by the board during the year.

In addition six paroles granted by the board, six commutations of clemency and seven other clemency pleas were refused by Governor Branch.

Last year, only four pardons were granted by the board while none were granted the year before and eleven during the calendar year of 1921. During the three previous years total clemency pleas were granted as follows: 1921, 183; 1922 fiscal year 204; 1923 fiscal year, 240. The pleas refused totaled: 1921, 376; 1922 fiscal year, 204; 1923 fiscal year, 453.

During the past four years the clemencies granted totaled 814. During the administration of Governor Goodrich 1111 were granted; and 772 pleas were granted during the term of Governor Ralston.

Sidensticker said that many of the pleas for clemency included remission of fines pleaded for by liquor law violators. Many of the violators of the liquor law are assessed heavy fines and are unable to pay them. They are then sentenced to serve time for payment of their fines. Many of them are given permission to pay off their fines on installments. Many of those entering pleas and whose families are remitted or sentences commuted are those convicted of violating the motor vehicle act.

SATURDAY IS BANNER DAY FOR DEMOCRATS

John W. Davis, Democratic Presidential Nominee, to Visit Indianapolis on That Day

TO SPEAK AT TABERNACLE

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 10—The visit of John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, to Indianapolis Saturday will be made the banner day of the Democratic campaign in Indiana, according to plans being completed today at state headquarters.

Delegations of Democratic enthusiasts from every county in the state will pour into Indianapolis to hear the Davis address at Cadle tabernacle Saturday night, it was announced.

Walter Chambers, state chairman, Charles A. Greathouse, national committeeman from Indiana, and other party leaders will go to Richmond to meet the standard bearer when he crosses into Indiana from Ohio.

DUROC JERSEY HOG SALE!

At Pleasant Hill Farm

Pleasant Hill Farm is located three miles east and one mile south of Connersville, and one mile west and one-half mile north of Alquina, Indiana.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1924

50 Head of High Class Duroc Jersey Hogs
18 Head Spring Boars
32 Head of Spring Gilts

These Gilts and Boars are sired by Scissors King Walt 3rd, Longfellow King Orion Fancy, Double Junior and Longfellow Giant. Four real producing boars. They were mated to some of the best sows that I could find. Last fall, B. M. Perry of Falmouth, Ind., and myself, purchased Scissors King Walt 3rd, Junior Champion Boar, at the Indiana State Fair. This boar is proving to be a great breeder and a real show hog. Any man will be proud to own gilts or boars sired by this hog. If you are in the market for some gilts or boars come and look at this herd of hogs before the sale. Write for catalogues.

SALE STARTS PROMPTLY AT 1:00 O'CLOCK

DAWES IN TEAPOT

DOME DISTRICT

presenting both the old parties.

LaFollette knows the west and his big drive will be against those "two great aggregations of financial power—J. P. Morgan and the Standard Oil Company. He predicted today that "either the Republican or the Democratic party will cease to exist for the next four years."

The progressive party, as he described it, was born as a revolt against the "two cynical, mocking, arrogant masks of the idealism of Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln."

This bitter arraignment of the two old parties was delivered by the senator at Newark the final step of his eastern invasion.

Asserting that the control of the government had fallen into a few hands, LaFollette challenged President Coolidge to refute the charge that "those now in control of the government at Washington do not represent the people, but those who exploit the people."

LaFollette was strong in denouncing war.

"The World war, fought to end all wars," he said, "crushed Democracy in America and concentrated the money power in the hands of a few men."

Agriculture was described by LaFollette as having been all but "destroyed through a conspiracy of the banking agencies."

New York, Oct. 9—More confident than ever that he will be victorious at the polls in November, John W. Davis returned from his three days speaking trip through New York today to prepare for a new invasion of the west.

The Democratic candidate planned to spend the day in conference here and will leave tomorrow for a swing that will carry him through Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Tennessee, Kentucky and Ohio, according to the present tentative schedule.

Davis concentrated his attack on the administration's foreign policy in his speech at Buffalo last night, describing it as based on fear of the irreconcilable group in the senate rather than any attempt at constructive statesmanship.

American foreign policy as directed by Hughes, Davis said, has been made the "football of partisan politics"

BROTHERHOOD FORMED
BY 1ST BAPTIST CHURCH

Organization Perfected Following Address by Dr. L. C. Trent of Woodruff Place Church

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

A Brotherhood organization was effected Wednesday night at the First Baptist church in connection with the Men's banquet. Following a splendid prepared dinner in the basement of the church, Dr. L. C. Trent, pastor of the Woodruff Place Baptist church, Indianapolis, delivered an address in keeping with the occasion. He made several helpful suggestions concerning the lines along which men might serve in the church and community.

At the close of his address, the question of organizing a Brotherhood was discussed at length and the first steps were taken toward perfecting the organization. Wilbur Mahin was elected president; E. B. Heath, vice president; Malcom Newkirk, secretary and Clarence McMahon, treasurer. The officers were requested to plan for the next meeting, at which time the organization will be perfected.

The meeting tonight will be for the whole congregation and each member is urged to attend.

JUDGE LEADS SLUGGERS

Joe Judge, Washington first baseman, leads the sluggers, who have played all five games of the world series.

The four leaders are:

Hit by Senators' Leader Puts Game on Ice and Series is Tied

Washington—Goslin is up, goes out on a fly to Young. Judge is batting, out on a pop fly to Jackson. Bluege up, foul strike one, ball one, inside, goes out, Jackson to Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning
New York—Gowdy out, Peck to Judge. Nehf flied to Rice who made another fine running catch. Lindstrom out, Zachary to Judge on an easy chance. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Washington—Peck singled on a line drive to left. Ruel sacrificed, Nehf to Kelly. Peck flied to second. Zachary out, Kelly unassisted. Peck got to third. McNeely walked. Two Giant pitchers started warming up. McNeely was almost nipped at first. McNeely stole second and Peck made no effort to score. Harris scored Peck and McNeely with a single to right center. Rice out on strikes. Two runs, two hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning
New York—Frisch fouled to Ruel in front of the Washington dugout. Young out, Ruel to Judge on a fast play. Kelly out, Harris to Judge. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Washington—Goslin fanned. Judge out, Nehf to Kelly. Bluege walked. Bluege stole second. Peck walked. Ruel up. Ruel out, Nehf to Kelly on an easy chance. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning
New York—Muesel up, goes out on a pop fly to Harris. Wilson goes to bat, singled to right. Jackson is batting, foul strike one, ball one high, flied to Goslin. Gowdy, strike one is called, out on pop fly to Harris. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Washington—Zachary is first up in this inning, was out, Gowdy to Kelly. McNeely is up, was out on a foul to Kelly. Harris is up, strike one is called. Strike two, also called. Ball one, wide; ball two, high; went out on a fly to Wilson. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Eighth Inning
New York—Snider was sent in to bat for Nehf. He is a member of the Giant's catching staff. Snider went out on a fly to right. Lindstrom is now batting, strike one, called; foul strike two; ball one, wide; strike three, he fanned. Frisch goes to bat, ball one, low; foul strike one; strike two called. Goes out, Harris to Judge. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Washington—Ryan now pitching for the Giants. Rice is up, goes out, Frisch to Kelly. Goslin is at bat, strike one called; strike two called; ball one, wide; ball two, low; was called out on strikes. Judge is up, ball one, ball two, ball three, ball four, was walked purposely. Bluege is batting, ball one, ball two, strike one called. Went out, Ryan to Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning
New York—Young is first up, ball one, strike one, called. Young fouled to Bluege. Kelly is at bat, ball one, low; strike one, called; strike two, he swung on this one; ball two, high. He singled to Rice. Muesel is up, (Southworth was sent in to run for Kelly) foul, strike one on Muesel; foul strike two. Muesel forced Southworth, Peck to Harris. In fielding Muesel's hot grounded, Peck twisted his knee and was forced from the game. Judge also was hurt in the same play, when he was hit in the stomach by a ball thrown by Harris, in an attempt to double Muesel at first. Taylor was sent to third, and Bluege took Peck's place at short. Wilson is up, strike one, called; ball one high; strike two, he swung at this one; Wilson swung and missed on the third strike. No runs, one hit no errors.

By HENRY L. FARRELL

(P. Staff Correspondent)
Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—Pushed clear to the end of the plank where another shove will mean doom, the Washington Senators were back home today for the sixth game of the World series with the New York Giants.

Down three games to two and with Walter Johnson gone as a possibility in the two games that are necessary to win the championship, the American League champions had little more than a game fighting heart to sustain their hopes.

When the old master, Sir Walter, went down yesterday for the second time, he carried with him the last ordinary chance the Senators had to become the first world's champions. Washington ever had and they became the under-dog in the fifth for the series.

With the Giants needing only one more victory to cinch the title and with Art Nehf, the star southpaw, ready to work, the Giants became a 2 to 1 favorite in the betting to win the series.

Despite the glooming outlook there was no pain on the faces of the home folks to remind the Senators on their arrival last night that things had not gone so well for them in New York. There was the same pep and enthusiasm among the fans and they couldn't see that their Senators were at the point of death.

Washington believed that with Peckinpaugh back in the game and with Tom Zachery ready to stand the Giants on their head that the Senators were sure winner, that the series was squared, again and that the American League champions would win the rubber tomorrow.

Ideal weather greeted the mobs that arrived in town this morning on a flock of special trains.

Taxing The Future

There were more tax-free bonds issued during the first six months of this year than during any other period of six months in American history.

This is something that recommends itself for the sober consideration of every taxpayer.

Unless something is done to curtail the reckless and wanton method of taxing the coming generation to pay for present conveniences, there will be no end to the havoc that may be wrought.

Increases in taxes may be traced largely to the craze for issuing bonds in which investors place their money and avoid responsibility in paying for their just share of the cost of government.

The dollar invested by labor, by agriculture and by commerce ought to have an equal chance with the dollar invested by wealthy bondholders in public improvements constructed under the direction of local or national politicians.

Happiness

There are all kinds of institutions, but none quite as unique as the Freedman club for bankrupt millionaires.

To live there, one must be past 60 years old, be cultured, have known wealth and luxury but through bad fortune have been reduced to poverty, must have refined surroundings and must be married, because all of the apartments for single folks are occupied.

Those of us who can't qualify for admission may always be happy over the fact that we do not want to.

For being a millionaire is not the supreme thing in life. To be one whose wealth runs into the millions is misfortune enough, without being reduced to poverty past 60 years of age after knowing luxury which spoils one for a happy life in moderate circumstances.

It isn't so much what we possess or are in this life, as what we think we have and are.

The baby with his first toy is hap-

All in a Day's Work

Mr. Coolidge conceives it to be the business of a President not only to attend to the routine affairs of the Executive Office, but also to lend the presidential influence to any worthy object that will contribute to the public welfare.

This he did when he took time to attend the ceremonies incident to the welcome home of the victorious Washington baseball team. He took occasion to deliver an address to the Washington players on the lesson to be drawn from their endeavors and on the value of the game as a diversion from our more serious duties.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Will "Silent Cal" get the "silent vote"? If he does, then Davis and La Follette may as well waive the formality of counting the ballots and concede the election of the G. O. P. ticket.

For it is the "silent vote," the men and women who take no active part in the rallies, demonstrations and general hullabaloo of a campaign, who listen and think but do not lose either sleep or their tempers over the claims of the campaigners, who really decide who is to be who the day after election.

This year the usual "silent" vote is expected to be increased by some millions of normally stay-at-home voters. Non-partisan civic and patriotic organizations, as well as all the party outfits, are uniting in a drive to get to the polls at least 75 per cent of the eligible voters.

What this may mean in the way of changed results can be sensed when it is known that if 75 per cent of the folks who are entitled to vote Nov. 4 cast their votes the total will be more than 50 per cent above the total vote in the 1920 presidential election. In that year, only a fraction more than 49 per cent of eligible voters were cast.

JUST what is it that appeals most to this "silent vote" on the part of the candidates? How should one go about catching it? Probably there isn't any formula. But in the main it is held that the large part of this vote is the thinking as well as the silent vote.

The man who doesn't say much is apt to do a good bit of thinking. He threshes things out in his own mind rather than arguing them out with another.

Sometimes, of course, he may be simple and silent instead of simply silent, just as it is suggested by his critics that while Coolidge sometimes sits and thinks there are times when he just sits.

COOLIDGE'S silence during the campaign—he has made but two speeches that could be considered campaign utterances—is declared by his backers to be proper technique.

The candidate's apparent indifference and nonchalance, it is held, creates a sense of his absolute confidence. This self-assurance is supposed to react psychologically on doubtful voters, making all those who gauge their votes by the desire to mark a winner feel that the man who seems sure of victory.

Also, while an outsider, trying to get in, may indulge in a hammer-and-tongs campaign, a similarly strenuous battle by one already in would be interpreted as meaning that he was badly scared. And that would be an unfortunate impression, causing all faint-hearted followers to abandon his cause.

Coolidge's viewpoint is that for a candidate who is already in office, to indulge in much speech-making indicates that he is on the defensive. The fellows who are leading the offense, he agrees, must talk. But the best program for the man already in is to stand pat, say nothing, and exude an atmosphere of unshakable confidence.

The president says he never knew a candidate to lose anything by talking too little, so he's striving to talk even less than usual.

AFTER his demand that Charles Dawes be ousted as the presidential candidate of the Republican party, G. O. P. leaders are more than ever certain that Senator Brookhart's parents were clairvoyant when they named him Smith WILDMAN Brookhart. Because of Brookhart and his challenge there are now a lot of wild men around Coolidge-Dawes headquarters.

AFTER all, the enthusiasm on tap in a presidential campaign is pretty much of a manufactured article. Official as well as "civil" Washington has been a lot more "hot up" over the world's series than it will be over any possible result of the November elections.

Brevity may be the soul of wit, but there is nothing funny about being short of sleep.

The second football team of the Rushville high school was defeated by the first team from the Connersville high school last evening at the South Main street grounds by the score of five to nothing.

There is rejoicing in the lair of the Tigers this afternoon for the Detroit Americans took the game from Pittsburgh by the score of 7 to 2.

It's off with a rush and the Republicans have nominated their councilman from the three wards. The first ward, George F. Moore; second ward, Thomas Geraghty, Sr.; third ward, Alvah Newhouse.

Ben Sparks, the local young man who has made good on the Butler college football team, was the individual bright and shining star in the game with Franklin college at Franklin yesterday afternoon.

Myron Green, returned yesterday from Bloomington where he has been visiting fraternity brothers in Indiana University.

Donald Meyer went to Connersville this morning to attend the birthday party of his cousin, Bernard Hill.

H. E. Pike, recently of French Lick, has accepted a position with Havens and Riggs. He will occupy rooms in the Bodine property, West Second street.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Moore have returned from their honeymoon trip to Chicago and will be at home in East Sixth street.

James Geraghty and Martin Kelly have returned from Lexington where they attended the races.

Havens Frazee entertained a few friends this afternoon at his home in North Main street.

A steak supper was given at the country club yesterday evening, honoring Mrs. Guy Abercrombie.

Mrs. Della Dunn, a past grand chief of the Pythian Sisters, was pleasantly surprised at her home in West Third street last night. Mrs. Dunn is suffering from rheumatism and was unable to attend the session of the grand temple which closed in Indianapolis yesterday.

At the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Rush County Sunday School Association held in Milroy yesterday, practically all of the old officers were re-elected. Passing Of One Of Greatest Pitchers Marked By a Tragedy

Fadeout Of Walter Johnson, Best Loved Sportsman, Attended By Gesture Of Kid Manager So Heroic That It Robbed The Tragedy Of Its Sting

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Oct. 9—Walter Johnson probably is through with big league baseball.
The passing of one of the game's greatest pitchers and best loved sportsman was marked by a tragedy—and a gesture by a kid manager so heroic that it robbed the tragedy of its sting.
The tragedy was the story of the climax of Johnson's career, how the dream of 18 years came through at the Polo Grounds yesterday and found his arm gone, so that Giant hits rang to all corners of the field and the great pitcher was all but batted from the box.
That he was not batted from the box was due to the magnificent courage of Bucky Harris, who once was a breaker boy in a Pennsylvania coal mine and now manages the American League champions.
Harris and everyone else knew Johnson was not "right" when the Giant batters began to connect squarely with his offerings. The hop was not on the fast ones and the once dread curves were breaking slowly and wide of the mark.
But Bucky Harris, white-faced, seeing the crucial ball game that almost certainly meant the series dribbling out of his reach, stuck out his jaw and played the game.
Not for the sake of a ball game and the thousands of dollars involved, would he send his friend "Barney", as they call Walter in Washington, on that long tramp across the field to the showers, that weary walk that a pitcher has to take alone—too often with the boots of a thoughtless throng in his ears.
Harris kept Johnson in the game,

even though the night-mare of that eighth inning when the Giants, almost pityingly, were hitting everything he had.
The Washington manager will win many a ball game in the future with his head, but it is probable he never will win as great a victory with his heart again as was that defeat of yesterday.
In the stands, as Johnson faded and the old speed just wasn't there, the crowd pulled silently for Johnson.
When some fan screamed "take him out" Billy Evans, American League umpire, was out of his grand stand seat and upon the fellow like a thunder-cloud.
"Cut that out," he shouted above the din. "Come outside and I'll knock your head off."
Several of the fan's friends rose blusteringly to his rescue, and Billy, who has a chest like a barrel, challenged them all. They were not to shout down Johnson, he insisted, and they subsided and didn't.
After the game Evans, with a jump in his throat, talked about Walter Johnson and how the umpires felt towards him.
"Since I started umpiring in the American League," Bill said, "I called 500 bad balls on Barney. Never once did he complain.
"He was the greatest fellow in baseball, with a big heart and the greatest fast ball, when he was right."
There were thousands like Evans among the fans of stand and bleachers who would have given much to see Johnson win. But the way he was pitching yesterday he couldn't.
It was a day for youth, not age. Young Lindstrom, the 19-year old kid who played third base for the Giants since Heinie Groh hurt his ankle, was the hero. He was born the year before Johnson started to pitch for Washington.
The blonde kid smached out four hits off Walter's delivery, with the coolness of a veteran. He went into the air and into the turf around third base for all kinds of hard chances, cutting off Washington base hits.

There was another boy in the game yesterday, also a third baseman, as pitiable a figure as Lindstrom was heroic. If ever there was a ball player who wished there were no such things as "pinches" in baseball, it probably is Miller. Thrown into the game by an injury to the veteran Peekinpaugh, Miller found himself throughout the series coming up in a pinch. And he couldn't deliver. He couldn't even field very well and once he let in some tallies by failing to step on third base.
It was consideration for Miller which caused Walter Johnson to make his fielding error yesterday. The pitcher, with kindly intent, was on top of a hunt, but waited to make sure that Miller was taking the play properly at third base. His hesitancy cost him dear, for when he finally snatched at the ball, he "only picked it up half way" as the ball players say.
Walter Johnson probably will announce his retirement from the big leagues and buy an interest in a club in the Pacific Coast League, where he can settle down. At 37, he is through with fast time. Whether he turned out the remnants of a once invincible pitching arm helping Bucky Harris win the pennant this year or whether 18 years is all a pitcher can serve, no one knows.
But long after the outcome of the present series is forgotten fans—and this goes for the millions—who didn't see it, will remember how Bucky Harris kept Walter Johnson in the box through that chilly October afternoon and saw a crucial ball game go, rather than humiliate one of the game's greatest figures and send him on that long, lonely trek across the green field to the showers.
Cincinnati—Ladkin, conqueror of Epinard in the second international race, developed lameness on the Covington track and may be unable to enter the third international race at Latonia Saturday.

When "Goose" Became a Hero

There were two men on bases—"Bucky" Harris and McNeely—when "Goose" Goetin, the Babe Ruth of the Senators, came to bat in the third inning of the fourth world series game. Goetin swung at the first ball and knocked it out to the right field stands for a home run, scoring Harris and McNeely. Here "Goose" is seen crossing the plate himself. "Hank" Gandy, Giant catcher, looks on disconsolately, but not so the Washington mascot, a Quigley, is the amuse at the plate.

CAPTAIN OF REDS DIES IN HOSPITAL

Jake Daubert, Veteran First Baseman, Passes Away This Morning at Cincinnati

WAS OPERATED ON LAST WEEK

(By United Press)
Cincinnati, O., Oct. 9—Jake Daubert, captain of the Cincinnati Reds and veteran first baseman, died in a hospital here today at 4 a. m.
Daubert underwent an operation for appendicitis and draining of the gall bladder last week.
Yesterday his condition became critical and physicians held out little hopes for his recovery.
Acute indigestion, resulting in a dilated stomach, was the immediate cause of his death. His run-down condition, aggravated by stomach trouble, made it impossible for Daubert to rally from the shock of the operation.

Jake's full name was Jacob Ellsworth Daubert. He was 40 years old and his home was in Schuylkillhaven Pa.
Mrs. Daubert and their 19-year old son, George, were at Daubert's bedside when he died. A daughter, Mrs. Samuel Beckner, and Jake's older brother, George Daubert, arrived from Pennsylvania several hours too late to be with the veteran baseball player before he died.
Chicago—After five years of illness, Ralph Wood, 29, one of the greatest basketball players ever developed at the University of Illinois died in Denver last night, his father was telegraphed today.

Will Have Another Chance

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 9—When the New York Giants won the National League pennant some very smart baseball men remarked, "Well, the Giants finished first, but the Pirates had the best team in the league."
When Battling Siki knocked out Georges Carpentier, the French consolation themselves with the thought that the better fighter lost on bad luck.
For years before Bobby Jones won the amateur golf championship, title holders were official champions, but golf bugs held consistently to the claim that young Bobby was the best of all the amateurs.

Another case of the kind can be applied to Epinard, the French thoroughbred, who is to seek vindication Saturday in the third of the big international special races, at Latonia.
Epinard was beaten in his first race at Belmont Park over the six-furlong distance. He finished second behind Wise Counselor, with Ladkin, the August Belmont three-year-old third.
Wise Counselor got the purse, but the glory all went to the French colt. He was excused for having been given a bad ride by Everett Haynes, the former American jockey, who came back from France to ride Pierre Wertheimer's colt in his three big races. Railbirds said that Haynes had been outsmarted by Frank Kough, another American jockey, just back from France. Form followers said that the distance was not long enough for Epinard, and that he had been made the victim of bad racing luck in getting a poor start and in being bumped and shut off by Zev, the international champion of 1923.

When the time came for the second special at Aqueduct over the mile distance, Epinard was figured as the favorite, but he again finished second, with Ladkin first and Wise Counselor, the winner of the first race, behind Epinard.
Again the purse went to the winner and the glory to the loser. Haynes was criticized severely. Competent turf writers said the French colt had shown convincingly that he was the best horse of the day, and that it was a shame to have his record spoiled by the inferior riding of his jockey. They suggested openly to the colt's owner that he would have to get another jockey if he wanted to win the third race.

ed the right to install metal windows, boilers and other similar work on construction jobs here.

A labor war broke out over the claim of the structural iron workers and repeated acts of vandalism occurred in which thousands of dollars worth of property were destroyed.

McNamara will face Judge A. Collins in criminal court for arraignment.

Collins, serving as police judge in April, 1911, turned the labor leader over to William J. Burns to be taken to California, where he was wanted in connection with the Llewellyn Iron Works dynamiting.

McNamara contended that he was kidnapped by Burns and fought bitterly for his liberty. Later he pleaded guilty and served twelve years of a fifteen year sentence in San Quentin penitentiary.

His brother, James B. McNamara, pleaded guilty to murder for the dynamiting of the Los Angeles building on Oct. 1, 1910, in which 21 persons were killed. The brother is now serving a life sentence for the bombing.

Clarence Darrow, Chicago attorney who defended Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb in the Franks murder case, was chief attorney for the McNamaras.

At the time of the arrest of McNamara at his office here in 1911 enough dynamite to blow up a city block was found stored in the building, with caps, wires, alarm clocks and other material used in making infernal machines.

Upon his return from serving the sentence in California, McNamara was made business representative of the local union.

WORLD FLIGHT SHOWS WAR PERIL

General Patrick Tells United Press of Lessons Taught by Exploit of Army Fliers

TROOP SHIPS IN DANGER

Proves no Distance is Great Enough to Make U. S. Immune From Attack in Time of War

By LUDWELL DENNY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 9.—"The round-the-world flight proves that no distance is great enough to make the United States or any other country immune from attack in time of war."

This was the answer of Major General Mason M. Patrick, Chief of the U. S. Army Air Service, when the United Press asked him what was the chief military effect of the world flight.

"The flight gives added proof of the great difficulty of transporting troops in surface vessels without attack from the air," Patrick continued. He called attention to a recent White House statement that the flight raises the question whether the United States could again transport an army across the Atlantic, as in 1917.

Patrick emphasized that the flight demonstrated the commercial value of the airplane as a practical means of transportation to any place on the globe. This, according to other army officers, will stimulate commercial aeronautics in the United States, which is absolutely essential to air preparedness for war.

Air preparedness, they say, depends upon a large number of commercial planes which can be converted quickly into fighting machines, and upon many factories which can begin turning out war planes on a moment's notice.

"The world flight was a great publicity stunt to arouse the American people to the value of aeronautics, and we have put the idea across," according to an officer closely connected with the flight. As a result, he predicted a boom in airplane building. Commercial competition will increase the number of engineers working on aeronautical problems was the case with the automobile. Then, if there is a war, America will have more and better planes than any other country, he concludes.

It is believed that as a result of the flight, American manufacturers of commercial craft, who have been at a disadvantage in freight competition, can now find a ready market for American machines abroad.

International commercial air trains is now possible army officers say. But officers who planned this flight do not expect the route taken by Lieut. Smith and his associates to become the permanent one. They say the direct routes across the Pacific and Atlantic are more practical. The Pacific airway of the future, they believe, is via Honolulu, Midway Island, the Philippines and China. The best Atlantic route is that taken by the record-breaking Navy fliers in the NC 4s—Portugal, Azores, fiords in the NC 4s Portugal, Azores, fiordland Route.

Difficulties encountered by the world fliers in the Arctic on both the Pacific and Atlantic hops show that their route is possible only for a few months in the year, and therefore not practicable for commercial use.

But the Army fliers deliberately chose the hardest route to demonstrate that the airplane is not a toy or a fair weather machine, but is capable of sustaining flight in the worst weather and over the most treacherous territory.

Despite this severe test, army engineers who examine the world plane

Awaits Chair

Alex Kuzik, 19-year-old Akron youth, under death sentence for the murder of his cousin, Elizabeth May, is facing his fate to escape the electric chair on Judge Caverly's decision in the Leopold-Loeb case. Governor A. V. Donahy, however, refuses to commute his sentence. He is granting a stay of execution, though, to permit an appeal to the state supreme court.

when they landed in Washington were surprised to find how little the planes had deteriorated. They say the fabric wings and the bodies are almost as good as when the trip began, only the motors wear out.

There was little chance to test the motor's endurance because, whenever one part went bad on the trip an entirely new motor was substituted at the next base. This was quicker than attempting repairs.

Leaking cylinders were in general responsible for most of the motor trouble and army experts have set to work to find a remedy. They say, however, that a gasoline motor at best is really too complicated for world flight.

But they add, it will not be necessary in the future for the planes which start to make the entire flight. Fresh planes can continue the flight from each base, after a rapid change of cargo.

The entire trip was made in about 350 hours of actual flying, or in less than 15 days. Officers here expect that a passenger plane will soon be developed which can do 150 miles an hour, and reduce the trip to 7 days.

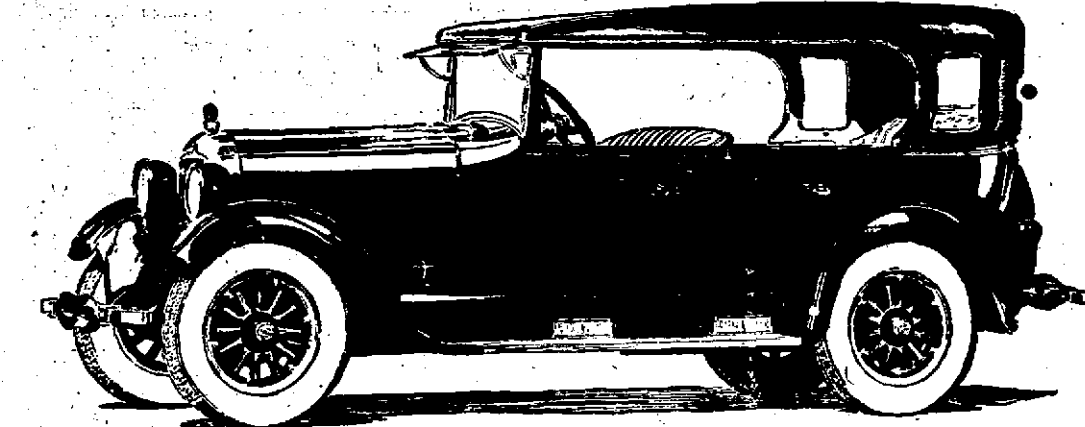

Frequent pontoon trouble experienced on the flight raises the question whether this type of plane will be used for the purpose in the future. These were land planes, which were fitted with pontoons before each water jump. The true amphibian plane, however, is capable of making the change from sea to land plane and vice versa while in the air and at will. Locatelli, the Italian aviator who came to grief while accompanying the Americans on the Greenland hop, had difficulty with his amphibian type from the time he left Italy. Stuart McLaren, the British flier who got half way around the world and was forced down in the north Pacific, is said to retain confidence in the amphibian type of plane which he used.

But engineers in general hold that the amphibian can never be developed into an ideal plane.

So Army air officers now say world flights of the future will probably employ land planes for continental flying and hydro-airplanes for sea jumps, and that pontoons will be dispensed with altogether. Although there are many seaplanes with pontoons, the Army engineers on the basis of this flight maintain that "boats" of the Navy NC 4 type are superior. In these "boats," as distant from so-called "seaplanes," the hull itself serves as a pontoon.

Perhaps the chief need revealed by the flight was for direction-finding apparatus, they say. Repeatedly the men were held up by fog. Fog caused the accident which put Commander Martin out of the race and almost cost him his life.

Army experts therefore have renewed their work with radio on direction finding apparatus, which they expect will enable both pilot and ground observers to know the exact location of a plane at any time under any conditions. Their goal is to perfect an instrument which will enable a pilot to land with safety in a fog.

Duplex—exclusively Studebaker —a new kind of car!

Value Points New Big Six

The New Duplex-Phaeton Body—it solves the closed-open car problem.

Genuine Balloon Tires.

New Satin-Lacquer Finish.

Spanish chrome tanned leather upholstery.

New ideas in ease of operation and control.

Vibrationless Engine; forced-oiling system with new idea in oil supply. Full 75 h. p. black test.

Four-wheel Hydraulic Brakes optional—totally unlike any other system on American cars.

THE new Studebaker Duplex models give the comfort and protection of a closed car—with all the advantages of an open car, plus the good looks, riding comfort, interior finish and fittings that no open car could ever give!

Yet the price is no higher than that of an open car.

The appeal of its simplicity, convenience and durability is instant and decisive—with a touch of the hand you draw down the four roller enclosures and in thirty seconds your airy open car is a snug, comfortable enclosed car. With equal ease the enclosing sides can be rolled up into the roof and you have an open car again.

The Duplex body is especially built for the roller side enclosures, the roof is framed and shaped in steel—permanently beautiful and steel-strong to support the rollers, and the upper part of the Duplex is integral with the lower part. It is a unit body which harmonizes perfectly in beauty and function.

There is no other body like it on any other car at any price—because it is exclusively a Studebaker creation, made only by Studebaker. You can buy the Duplex from no other maker.

The new Duplex is available for each of the three new Studebaker chassis—the new STANDARD SIX, the SPECIAL SIX and the BIG SIX.

And these three new chassis are the evolution of the famous chassis of the five preceding years. Each year they have been improved and refined.

But this year the new models are climaxed with every tested and proved betterment that experience and science have thus far developed. They are paramount exemplars of modern automobile design.

Simply stated, this means that money cannot buy more modernly perfect automobiles than the new Studebakers—we have the Duplex models ready for your inspection. Come in today!

action finding apparatus, which they expect will enable both pilot and ground observers to know the exact location of a plane at any time under any conditions. Their goal is to perfect an instrument which will enable a pilot to land with safety in a fog.

With the interest aroused in aviation by the world flight they expect a larger number of commercial aeronautical engineers to help army experts to solve such problems, which will make world flights of the future quicker and safer.

WAR ON GUN "TOTERS"

Gary, Ind., Oct. 9.—Chief of Police W. A. Forbes has declared war on gun "toters" here today.

He has issued an order for the enforcement of a city ordinance providing for the regulation of firearm sale by requiring all dealers to have written permits signed by the board of safety.

He said many of the offenders brought to jail are found to possess guns. The police chief believes much of the crime here would be prevented if the criminals find they cannot carry deadly weapons.

The End of History's Greatest Marathon

At the journey's end—home again—one of America's gallant round-the-world flight planes Butters proudly landed at the Smith landing in Seattle while thousands cheer madly, automobile sirens sound shrilly. Hundreds tried to break through the police lines to congratulate the flier.

Final Closing Out of Wall Paper, Paints, Dry Colors, Liquid Veneer, Room Mouldings, Etc.

I still have a small stock of Wall Paper, High Grade Barn and Roof Paints in Red, Black and Big Four Yellow, Benj. Moore's Sani-Flat and Muresco Wall Finish and other broken lines left from our regular high grade stock not closed out from our Special Sale last Fall, late.

A fine lot of high class room mouldings... We propose to close all this stock out at some price — a price to get rid of it.

MARRIED TWELVE YEARS BEFORE BABY CAME

Gladly Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Louisville, Nebraska.—"I was married twelve years before my boy was born. I had a lot of female troubles and had been treated by a physician for them but they continued much the same. Then I read your advertisement in the newspapers and thought I would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a good trial, for if it had helped others, why not me? I have taken 36 bottles of the medicine and am never without it in the house. My baby boy is three years old now and I am as happy since I got relief from my troubles. When any one has trouble like mine, or say like mine, I am always glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound so that they will get the right kind of medicine."—Mrs. JOE NOVAK, Box 662, Louisville, Neb.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 95 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

SCOTTISH RITE TO HOLD ANNUAL PARTY

Rushville Members Receive Invitations to Attend Big Event on October 11

MANY FEATURES PLANNED

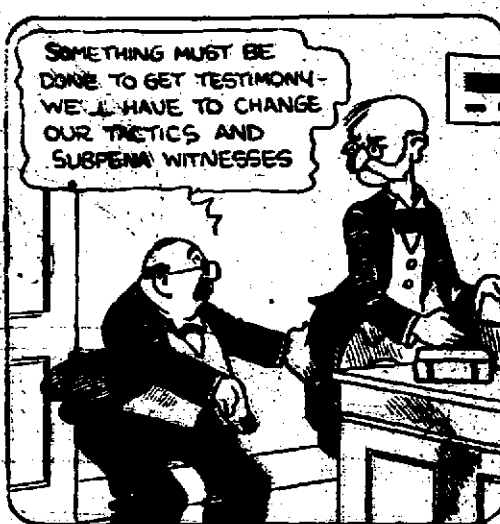

Invitations have been received by members of the Scottish Rite of Indiana, residing in Rushville and Rush county, to attend what promises to be the largest social event ever held in the state, it is understood. This comprises the annual Scottish Rite party and dance to be held Saturday evening, Oct. 11th and it is strictly for members of the order and their families, it is stated, with no admission fee except presentation of membership card.

Last year at the Scottish Rite party there was an attendance of more than 5,000 men, women and children, it is stated, and this year's event is expected to exceed that number.

In addition to dancing there will be cards, mah jongg, billiards, and kindred amusements and in order to assure ample room for the young army of guests arrangements have been made to hold the event in the Murat Shrine temple, which will be thrown open from sub-cellar to minaret for this occasion and it is assured that there will be no crowding.

Accompanying the invitations received by Scottish Rite members there is a complete program and announcement concerning the fifty-ninth semi-annual convocation and reunion of the Rite to begin Monday, Nov. 17 and continue the remainder of the week.

MOM'N POP

The story was originally written for the screen by Earl Hudson, author of "Sundown" and "For Sale," and was adapted by Marian Orth. It is laid against an elaborate background of modern society. The settings are of exceptional beauty and with a supporting cast that well justifies the term "all-star."

The third corner of the triangle is played by Lon Tellegen, who as Martin Prayle nearly disrupts the domestic relations of the Jordans, played by Corine Griffith and Milton Sills. Kathryn Williams, Phillips Smalley and Henry B. Walthall form another triangle which influences the life of the Jordans. Jere Austin in the role of Doctor Lane, whose intimate proximity to the two families places him in the role of judge, philosopher and confidante; Phyllis Haver, John Patrick and many others complete the cast.

George Archambaud, whose "For Sale" and "The Common Law" were the sensations of the passing season, wielded the megaphone over "Single Wives" and has made of it a remarkable portrait of contemporary married life. It was made under the supervision of Earl Hudson.

Tip-top - Mrs. Henry Lane here, had one consolation when the "meanest" thief destroyed her garden. Frost came that night.

ONE THING A SHOE SHINE CAN'T CONCEAL

My visits to the shoe shining parlor are pretty regular. I had an experience in one of them the other day that was very interesting, and while I don't know all the fine points of shoe retailing, I am sure I found out the one big reason why we are selling so many ankle fashioned oxfords. A powerful darky was working on a pair of oxfords on the next chair and he whipped his cloth over them till they fairly sparkled, but still they looked nasty, for they gapped badly at the heels.

As near as I could tell the man paid in the neighborhood of $10.00 for those oxfords. He got good leather for his money, but it takes more than good leather and shoe polish to give the effect of being well shod.

Study this over, then come in and let Cox talk to you about it.

Corinne Griffith Starring
"Brains, beauty, poise, wit! What an asset the modern American 'single wife' would be in the diplomatic service!"

And so the magnetic phrase "Single Wives" was coined and applied to the First National Production, co-starring Corine Griffith and Milton Sills, which is now the attraction at the Princess Theatre. "Single Wives" is said to be a startling "expose" of modern marriage and the peculiar conditions that have developed within it. The phrase was coined to designate wives who feel the lure of external attractions, whose husbands have forgotten the art of courtship.

She Gets First Series Ticket

Washington fans have been clamoring for world series tickets for weeks—even long before the Nats definitely had won the pennant. But when the grandstand window opened and the sale formally began, hundreds were lined up, waiting for their pasteboards. The first to obtain one, though, was a woman, Elaine B. Tydings. She had been waiting three hours.

PURDUE GIRLS ARE GETTING HUSKIER

Going in Stronger This Year for Athletics Than Ever Before, Says Athletic Director

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 9—Girls at Purdue university are getting huskier. They are going in stronger this year for athletics than ever before, according to announcement today of M. L. Clevett, assistant director of athletics.

An increase of over fifty per cent of those enrolled for athletics last year have been enrolled this year, bringing the total enrollment up to nearly three hundred.

The Woman's Athletic Association of the university, and of which all co-eds taking part in athletics are members, annually awards monogram to girls who have "scored" 250 points, while an official "W. A. A. monogram and sweater is awarded the girl" scoring 500 points.

These points are awarded for making certain teams and for performing athletic feats such as hiking a certain distance, various swimming performances and the like.

Activities this year include: volleyball, playground baseball, basketball, tennis, cross country walking, relays, hiking, swimming, horseshoe pitching, and rifle shooting. The women are divided into twelve organizations which take part in the above events while, in addition, a number of class teams take part in such sports as basketball and tennis.

Moderate participation of women in athletics is urged by university officials, whose aim this year is to get every co-ed to take part at least in one branch of the sport events which are offered.

SOLVE PROBLEMS AT NOVEL CLINIC

Problems That Have Worried and Perplexed People for Ages Being Solved at "Habit Clinic"

CONDUCTED AT TOPEKA, KA.

Psychiatrist Declares Diagnosis and Treatment of Children Will Remedy Conditions

Topeka Kan Oct 9—Problems that have worried and perplexed all sexes and all ages ever since the domestic difficulties of Adam and Eve are being solved at the "habit clinic" for children conducted here by the Kansas Mental Hygiene Society.

For instance there is the run-away-boy, the lazy boy, the suspicious wife who is constantly accusing her husband of infidelity, the cruel husband, the backward school child, the professional complaining invalid, the daughter who quarrels with her mother, the girl who insists upon staying at the home of her chum every night, the youth who steals money from his father, the habitual drunkard, and the man who doesn't "feel like work."

These and many others with many and diverse afflictions are weekly visitors at the "habit clinic." Dr. Karl A. Menninger, psychiatrist, declares diagnosis and treatment of children will remedy conditions which contribute to a large percent of the unhappiness of individuals and families in later life.

Things are not exactly as they should be or the Topeka clinic, the only of its kind in this part of the country, would not have been established, Dr. Menninger said.

If John develops into a grouchy, morose, dyspeptic, people tap their heads and murmur, "Poor boy, he should have had more iron and enzymes when he was a baby."

When John throws a fit of jealousy and murders his wife because she smiled at the ice man his action is termed "pure cussedness."

Whereas if "Poor John" had gone to a mental clinic when he was a child he might have been cured of his mental habits and his tragedy in later life averted, the experts reason.

The clinic deals in crime and neuropsychiatric class largely, but it is making a small beginning in the mental habit work with children.

Children are sent to dental clinics, are weighed, and measured periodically and have their eyes, ears, noses and throats examined.

One of the greatest contributing mental factors to failure and unhappiness, Dr. Menninger believes, is the inferiority complex. This feeling, he says, is often developed by thoughtless parents, ignorant of psychology, who constantly tell a child he is worthless, dumb or slow, or who make derogatory comparisons of him with other children of the neighborhood.

Dr. Menninger asserted parents could also learn much at habit clinics.

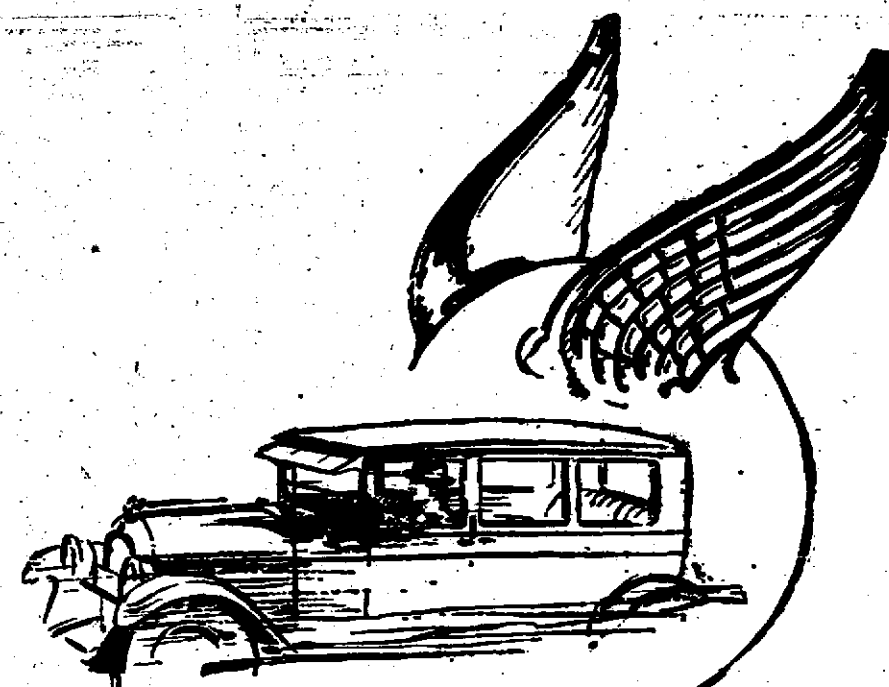

The clinic does much with children to help them overcome jealousy, tantrums of temper, obstinacy and lying destructiveness.

Mental illness in a family is the cause of divorce and of the upset of home, Dr. Menninger declares. A prerequisite to sane living is a healthy mind, he said.

Lester Says to Listen to This—That the

FLORENCE HOT BLAST

Air-Tight with the Damper Back of Fire Pot is the Only Original Florence Hot Blast with the

J. B. Howard Combustion Device

as it should be. Do not be DECEIVED by people who claim they have a stove equal to the FLORENCE with the damper in front of the Fire Pot. As Mr. J. B. Howard says, it will not function as it should, and other makes of stoves are only imitations and NOT THE ORIGINAL FLORENCE HOT BLAST.

THE DAMPER BACK OF THE FIRE POT PREVENTS PUFFING from the burning of soft coal or slack, and throwing soot and dirt out in your room, because it burns the gases that cause the explosion. With the damper back of the Fire Pot you have the best floor heater on the market and the only Jointless Leg Bottom and Base with full radiation that has ever been made.
